'Harvey,' Highlight of Art Week, Opens Here Tonight

The Allied Arts Assn. of Virginia Beach will present the Mary Chase perennial comedy favorite, "Harvey," tonight (July 7) at the Convention Center as part of "Art Week." Director Wade Williams has assembled an all-star cast to unfold the story of the lovable Elwood P. Dowd and his nebulous companion, "Harvey," a big white rabbit, six feet one and a half inches tall. Drawing on the best talent available from the Norfolk Little Theatre, Virginia Beach Little Theatre and radio and television personalities in the Norfolk area, "Harvey" will be the first stage production to be presented in the Convention Center since the new stage was completed this past spring.

Among radio and television personalities appearing in the production, will be Laverne Watson who will play the role of Dr. Sanderson. Watson is well-known to area television audiences as "Cousin Tibbie" and also as your Raso Reporter. Opposite Watson will be Chichi Lively, who has appeared in many Norfolk and Virginia Beach Little Theatre productions and has summer played opposite Shepherd Strudwick in "The Moon is Blue." Chichi is presently associated with WBOP.

Alice Brewer White, who is heard daily over WLOV and one of the outstanding fashion commentators in the area will be seen in the role of Mrs. Chauvenet. Playing the part of the sanitation attendant will be Carol James who has an afternoon show on WTAR. In the role of Dr. Chumley, head of the rest home where Elwood's sister tries to get him committed, will be veteran actor Lee Lively. Making her debut at Virginia Beach will be Cary Jones as Myrtle Mae Simmons, Elwood's niece. Cary will be remembered for her outstanding performance in the Norfolk Little Theatre's production of "Separate Tables." Liz Sills, also a veteran of both Norfolk and Virginia Beach Little Theatre productions, will be seen as Mrs. Elwood.

Rotary Auction Next Tuesday

The annual Rotary Club auction to be held next Tuesday night in the Convention Center is expected to have a record number of items and some surprises, too.

Some of the items will be auctioned off with Warren Hall, radio and television personality, serving in the role of auctioneer. Hull has informed the Virginia Beach Rotarians that he will be on hand to auction off some items to aid their project.

The public is invited to the auction that will get underway at 6:30 p.m. There will be entertainment and door prizes. Proceeds from the sale will go to the club's crippled children project, the student loan fund, Little League team and its various school awards program.

Portsmouth-Norfolk County Bar Group Presents Judge Wahab Gift as Parting Token of Honor

Judge Robert S. Wahab, Jr., who became senior judge of the 28th Judicial Circuit on July 1, was presented a gift of appreciation and words of tribute by the Portsmouth-Norfolk County Bar Assn. in a ceremony held last week.

As the court opened, Willard J. Moody, president of the Portsmouth-Norfolk County Bar Assn., informed the bench, "I have a matter the Portsmouth-Norfolk County Bar Assn. has asked to bring before it."

He said the association took this occasion to honor and pay tribute in an attempt to express its feelings to Wahab on his leaving the Portsmouth Circuit Court.

Moody said the feeling was moved. There was happiness over Portsmouth's obtaining a separate circuit and relieving the burden on the judges. On the other hand, the association members will miss the official friendship that had developed during the judge's tenure, Moody said.

"We will remember your impartiality, fairness, feeling of humanity and grasp of legal technicalities in these cases," Moody told Wahab. Moody said that an "indelible imprint" had been left by the judge, thanked him for his services and wished him well.

Moody then presented Wahab with a gift of a shotgun, "a small token of esteem and hope you will have time to use it."

Wahab assured the assemblage of lawyers that this "desertion of my duty is purely involuntary" and thanked them for making him feel at home when he arrived here "something as a stranger."

He described the attitude of bar members toward the bench here as "unexcelled anywhere," helping to make the last year and a half "the best in my life."

The judge reminded the group that today was not the last time he would sit in Portsmouth because of some judicial "house ends" and he hoped to be invited to return and try cases that for one reason or another could not be tried by Judge MacKenzie.

Commenting on Wahab, Judge MacKenzie said he had never seen anybody who has been so willing to work. MacKenzie noted that it would be several months before the changeover would be completed.

Judge Robert S. Wahab, Jr., right, accepts gift from Willard J. Moody, president of the Portsmouth-Norfolk County Bar Association, who presented the judge with a new shotgun as a gift from the group. The occasion was the final day Judge Wahab was sitting in the Portsmouth Circuit Court. Judge Wahab became senior judge of the 28th Judicial Circuit on July 1 and Portsmouth became a separate circuit on that day. Judge Wahab and Judge Richard B. Kellam will serve the new 28th circuit comprised of the Counties of Isle of Wight and Princess Anne and the City of Virginia Beach.

BUSINESS LEADERS PRAISE WEEKEND

The only conclusion that could be drawn as to what kind of Fourth of July weekend Virginia Beach enjoyed this year would be that it was tremendous from the standpoint of the number of people and business in general.

For the first time probably in history everyone here was in agreement that the July 4th weekend just past was the greatest holiday period in the city's long and colorful history.

A sampling of business folk in a survey made by the Sun-News this week also reflected the return of the sun and beach and the favorable weather for the fun seekers who flocked here in droves over the three-day holiday weekend.

Here are some of the comments of those persons interviewed this week:

Wiley C. Harrell, operator of the two Harrell Drug Stores here: "Best Fourth of July ever... I've been in business since I've been at the beach... I have nothing but praise for the weekend."

Mrs. Luev F. Trafton, Trafton-Chaffin Hotel: "Certainly had a terrifically big crowd... has in the past... I have a very nice beach... people told me our beach was superior to other beaches that they had visited."

Gov. Almond's office Friday announced the appointment of Carroll G. Clough of Princess Anne County as a member of the State Commission of Fisheries.

Clough will fill the unexpired term of Richard B. Kellam, who resigned to become a judge of the 28th Judicial Circuit. The appointment is subject to confirmation by the General Assembly.

Franklin Hodges, manager of the Sir Walter Hotel: "We had a wonderful business... house and out... best 4th in history of the beach... prospects are favorable for the rest of the season."

Mrs. William F. Welch, Mariner Motel: "Our business was excellent... completely filled... turned hundreds away... wonderful, quiet group."

Hoyt Capps, Thunderbird Motor Lodge: "The length of stay in conjunction with capacity occupancy was above expectations... we feel very grateful and blessed with our share of the peak business that Virginia Beach enjoyed for the 4th of July from Friday to Tuesday morning... there was very little resistance in securing prospective guests from the standpoint of staying the full weekend, Friday to Tuesday or longer."

Jack Golden, Gay Vacationer Motel: "Looks like a banner season... perhaps as large a crowd as the beach has seen... double credit to the police for handling the crowds... less disorderly conduct than any other holiday... fine sand beach, too."

William Dekker, Bel Harbour Motel: "Enjoyed a very nice weekend... more people on the beach than I've ever seen in a long time... full house... never had any trouble with the beach... never lost it... have a very nice beach."

John Hoey, Breakers Hotel: "The crowd was excellent... large abundance of families... sand condition was good... no complaints about the beach condition... looks like it's going to be a good season."

Edward Derring, Cavalier Hotel: "Booked to capacity over the 4th... couldn't have wished for a better 4th... had to turn down reservations."

Wilton Hampton, Dunes Motor Hotel: "If we could just have it every day like the 4th, we would all be happy... must have turned away a hundred people... business is good... we have a beautiful beach down here."

Alvin Gessner, president of the Virginia Beach Hotel Motel Assn.: "Business was unusually good over the 4th and reservations are good for the weeks ahead. It looks like the beach is in for a fine season. The Virginia Beach Police Dept. reported that it was unusually quiet for such a large crowd... few drunks... some disorderly conduct... a few fights... nothing of an unusual nature."

From all reports the Fourth of July weekend just passed was one of the best holiday weekends in the city's history. The weather was perfect and the crowds well behaved. But, for many it was back to the old grind on Tuesday until another holiday.

Number Dialing On Way; Names Running Out

All-number dialing is on the way for telephone subscribers of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Virginia according to L. F. Patrick, manager of the local office. The C&P announced its plans to gradually eliminate the present letter and numeral type telephone numbers.

The new arrangement identified as "All-Number Calling" (ANC) will get underway beginning September 1.

In place of the 2 letters and 5 numbers in use today, the ANC system substitutes a 7 digit number which in most cases is equivalent to the customer's present telephone number. For example GA-3-5911 will become 428-9911.

C&P manager Patrick said the reason for the change is that "the phone system is growing so fast that the telephone companies anticipate that there will be a running out of the present type telephone numbers in the foreseeable future."

Nearly 4 million telephones have been added to the nationwide network since 1950. The C&P here in Virginia reached its millionth phone this past March half which was added in the last ten years. When Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) he customers was introduced in 1947 a universal number plan was necessary. At that time the country was divided into areas known as numbering plan areas. Virginia was given the area code 703.

Within each numbering area all central offices had to have different names. However, the demand for communication services has grown so fast in past years that there just aren't enough names to go around.

By the end of 1960 over 70 per cent of the country will be using all-number dialing.

Jack Glawer and Willie Rice combined pitching talents for this win.

Congratulations to Dale Brady, who pitched a no-hitter against the Hawks. Those getting nice hits for the Thunderbirds were: Dale Brady, Mike Tripitow, Alex Begonia and Linwood Harper.

New Stamp Book Now Available

James M. Scully, Norfolk, Va., branch manager of the Sperry and Hutchinson Co. announced distribution here of the new 1960 S&H Green Stamp Yearbook, reported to be the largest single edition in business history.

Initial printing order of this catalog is 30 million copies, Mr. Scully said. Of the more than 1,500 items offered for redemption in S&H Green Stamp yearbook, a record number of 1,000 is shown in the catalog's 100 pages. Nearly half of this merchandise are new additions, Mr. Scully stated. Among the many items listed are a number of products made by manufacturers in this State and distributed through more than 625 S&H Green Stamp Redemption Centers across the nation.

Featured in its pages are room settings from five American homes, with comments on rooms and selection of home furnishings by Dorothy Draper, noted designer.

Mr. Scully noted that 15 million pounds of paper were used in producing the record-breaking catalog. Stacked one on top of the other, the catalogs, he said, would stand more than 200 times higher than the Empire State Bldg.

"The current catalog, our Company's 68th and largest, indicates the growth of our business," Mr. Scully noted. "It is being made available to 27 million families—almost half the families in the U.S.A.—who now have S&H Green Stamps, distributed nationally by more than 70,000 merchants."

News for VETERANS

The Roanoke office of the Veterans Administration believes that there are many unmarried widows or orphans of World War II or Korean Conflict veterans who are eligible but have not applied for VA pensions under the new law, effective July 1, 1960. The law eliminates a requirement that the deceased veteran must have had a service-connected disability at the time of his death, placing the survivors of our last two wars on the same basis as those of World War I.

The VA also points out that there are widows and orphans of our last three wars who have not been eligible under the old law because their annual income exceeds $1,400 for a widow or orphan alone, or $2,700 for a widow with a child. The new law provides a sliding pension scale for those whose incomes are not more than $1,800 and $3,000 respectively.

Widows or orphans whose claims have been disallowed, or who have not filed, would be wise to look into the possibility that they may be eligible for pensions under the new law. The services of my office are available on any work day.

American Little League News

by L.D. ENTSMINGER
June 28th marked the first half of the baseball season for the American Little League with the Tigers downing the Sports to the tune of 10-2. Bill Newton and Jimmy Maher held the Sports to only two hits while their teammates converted 8 hits into 10 runs. In the second game, the Cubs blasted the Rotarians 22 to 3. Although Tom Sanders and Steve Mundy hit home runs for the Rotarians, it was a case of too many base-on balls plus timely hitting to put the Cubs way out front. The pre-holiday games on July 1st set the pattern for heads-up baseball with the scores being more realistic in terms of baseball. In the first game, the Cubs continued their winning streak by downing the Tigers 4-0 while the Sports crashed into the winning column by holding a 9-6 count over the Rotarians. Tom Sanders was the big gun for the Rotarians, hitting a homerun, a double, a single and getting on base on a short stop error and scoring two runs. Although Bob Gregory and Cuth Dobbs held the Sports to 3 hits, 13 base-on-balls proved to be the Rotarians' undoing. Tom Sanders belted his third home-run of the season with none on.

In a poll of candidates for Mrs. America of 1960 it was learned that eight out of ten had saved through United States Savings Bonds to buy their homes.

Early inning hitting gave Colley Provisions a 5-1 win over Chesapeake A.C. Charles McCoy of the victors had two big hits and held the A.C. batters to three hits to emerge the winner. Doug Pauley's triple and Jimmy Stout's double helped the cause. Clyde Williams double drove in the losers only run.

In a red hit pitchers duel, Jesse Davis emerged a winner over Mike Leeman as the Flamings posted a 2-0 victory over the Little Gators. Both hurlers were in fine shape as Davis gave up but one hit while striking out 15, and Leeman allowed two hits and struck out 13. Allan Brandy got the two hits for the winners and John Cheevers of the losers spoiled the no-hitter.

Thursday—June 23
Eddie Dickens reached that pinnacle sought by all pitchers on Thursday evening when he hurled a no-hit, no-run game. Striking out 10 and walking only one, Dickens faced only 20 men in the six inning contest. Wayne Bostain of the losers also pitched well but five bases on balls were his undoing.

Now... Renault Trucks to Cut Your Costs 40%

Renault trucks are now available for the first time in the Tidewater area. With over a million miles of use under Renault's exclusive owner testing program, Renault commercial units have shown they can cut costs by 40% or more.

Purchase Price Economy.
The original cost of a Renault truck is $2004... less if you make a fleet purchase. You save hundreds of dollars when compared to conventional panel trucks.

Maintenance Economy.
Renault's unitized construction makes for a sturdier, more durable body that will hold up on any road. Made by craftsmen to meet the highest production standards, you can expect your truck to be giving you solid service for years to come.

Act Now and Save
If lower operating costs can mean more profits for you, make an appointment tomorrow to see the new line of Renault trucks at Eastern Auto. Don't wait... stocks are currently limited.

EASTERN AUTO
11th & Granby

Gasoline Economy.
Delivering up to 28 mpg, these miserly trucks will dramatically reduce your gasoline expenditures from the first day they are in operation.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Beach Has Entertainment Plus

A few years ago it was commonplace to hear many persons complain that Virginia Beach had all the attributes of a great summer resort but that it lacked sufficient entertainment other than sports and the sand and surf.

It might be well for these persons to take stock of the entertainment picture in Virginia Beach today. We believe that the situation has been greatly improved over the past two seasons. This belief is based on fact, not fantasy.

Of course, this week is loaded with entertainment that should find enjoyment for anyone looking for something to do after a day spent on the beach. But, it is not only entertainment this week for there is a good variety of entertainment throughout the summer season here.

Art lovers are in for a treat this week as the Fifth Annual Boardwalk Art Show opens today on the boardwalk at 24th street. This outstanding feature of our summer season has grown progressively since its simple beginning five years ago. This event is sponsored by the Virginia Beach Art Association and the members of this energetic and dedicated group are to be complimented on this splendid project.

Tonight in the Convention Center the Allied Art Association of Virginia Beach will present the amusing comedy, "Harvey" in conjunction with the celebration of Art Week in Virginia Beach.

Then on Friday night and again on Saturday night in the Convention Center the Second Annual Virginia Beach Jazz Festival is scheduled. This event proved so popular last year that the producers are making it an annual affair and this year's festival is featuring more and more of the country's jazz stylists.

But, aside from the special entertainment planned for this week the hotels and clubs up and down the beachfront are providing pleasant entertainment for their guests as well as the home folks. It is no longer a question of entertainment in Virginia Beach. We firmly believe that we are providing a variety of night entertainment and that entertainment is of a high quality.

For anyone to continue to belabor the entertainment question here would be revealing a lack of understanding for more and more good, solid entertainment is being offered and Virginia Beach, we feel, is second to no other resort in accommodations, entertainment and the treatment of its guests.

Etheridge Honored by Treasurers

Princess Anne County Treasurer V. Alfred "Jack" Etheridge has been honored by his fellow treasurers in Virginia. The popular and capable Princess Anne Treasurer was recently elected president of the Treasurers' Association of Virginia at their annual meeting held in Roanoke.

Etheridge has been a dedicated and tireless public official and it goes without saying that he will serve the association well as its president. He has always performed his duties with the group in a most commendable fashion. Having witnessed "Jack" Etheridge and his approach to problems of his office as county treasurer it was no surprise that the state association chose him to lead them in the coming year.

We are proud that this honor has come to the Princess Anne Treasurer and we wish for him and the association a most successful year during his stewardship. The association can be assured that its affairs are in capable hands.

Mrs. Earl Garrett of Virginia Beach has been named district deputy over 10 councils of the Daughters of America. The councils are located in the Tidewater area.

UNDER "21"

By DAN HALLIGAN

(Ed. note: Dan Halligan will be glad to answer questions submitted by teen agers and children. Send them to him at Box 129, Williston, N. D. For personal replies, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

Dear Dan: I have a son who will soon be enlisting in the Navy. The recruiter told Bill he would be in for four years but a young man we know who is in the Navy said the recruiters just tell the boys they have to serve four years in instead of two.

Do you know what the true facts are? Thanks you.—A Mother.

Dear Mother: Unless there's been a recent change in policy, first-time enlistees go into the Navy for four years or until their 21st birthday. There is no favoritism in the Navy, regardless of what your friend may say.

Dear Dan: What would you do about a kid who is always bumming cigarettes or leaving his lunch money home and always tries to borrow some to buy his lunch? He's got a good job in town but is always horsing around and annoying the girls. When a boy and girl are together he doesn't know enough to leave them alone and he can't take a hint. We've been wondering what to do and we thought maybe you would have some suggestions. Take it cool, man, and thanks.—Charlie and Fish.

Dear Charlie and Fish: Anyone can leave his lunch money and cigarettes home once or even three times but beyond that it becomes an unnecessary habit. For his own good where lunch money, smokes and couples are concerned, the boy may need some words straight from the shoulder. If he's obnoxious, he may not realize it and may appreciate whatever you care to say but keep your voices down.

Dear Dan: I'm in love with a boy in my class but he acts as though I'm not even around. I asked him over to my house but he just made up excuses. Dan, what should I do?—J. K. L.

Dear J.K.L.: If you're as young as you are handwriting indicates, you should wait several years before getting interested in boys. The boy probably knew as much and his excuses, flimsy as they might have been, were his way of saying exactly what I said.

Dear Dan: My boy friend is run-around and he says most men riding the elevator don't bother taking an elevator in a hotel this long off their hats when women are present. Doesn't a man remove his hat out of simple respect or am I wrong again?—Grace.

Dear Grace: The hard and fast rule of a man removing his hat in an elevator containing women has been replaced by one of more common sense. A man now keeps on his hat in a crowded elevator mainly to protect the fedora from being crushed.

However, if the elevator isn't crowded and there's one or more women riding, then I think a man can still be a gentleman by removing his hat.

Mrs. Garrett Is D.A. Deputy

Mrs. Earl Garrett of Va. Beach has been appointed district deputy over 10 councils of the Daughters of America. The councils are located in Norfolk, South Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Great Bridge, Ocean View and Va. Beach.

The installation of the new officers took place Tuesday night at Virginia Beach. Mrs. Garrett has been named as her associate, Miss Isabelle Williams of Norfolk.

The Daughters of America is a secret, patriotic, benevolence and fraternal organization of about 140,000 members. It was organized in 1891 in Bennett, Pa. and is active in 31 states. There are 40 councils in Virginia and they are divided into 6 districts.

The Daughters of America is well-known for its "helping hand" which assists in the care of orphan children and members. Usually placed the home of the nearest relative, the aid is continued until the child's 16th birthday. Especially popular is their half million dollar home for the aged at Griffin, Ohio.

Ansell Youngsters Win Awards In International Music Event

Carolyn, Charles, and Marjorie Ansell, students at the Accordion Center in Norfolk were among 50 contestants from the Tidewater area who attended the annual International Music League Festival at Cedar Point, Ohio.

Carolyn who has studied accordion for 4 years was recipient of first place honors in solo competition with her presentation of "Take Me Back to Sorrento," arranged by Charles Magnanti.

In the group competition, Carolyn and Charles on accordions with Marjorie on the vibraphone played "Indian Summer" and "Jamboree" and were awarded second place honors for this phase of the Festival.

Band competition resulted in first place recognition for the Accordion Center Concert Band. Carolyn and Charles are members of this group of sixteen young people. The number Two Accordion Center Band of which Marjorie is a member won the junior band first place award.

Mr. Robert Seymour, Director of the Accordion Center described the festival as a contest between 52 music schools from United States and Canada. This year there were over 2,000 young people competing in divisions set up according to age and length of instruction.

Mr. Seymour stated that his students take advantage of every opportunity to play in public to gain experience. He emphasized that large or small groups were always available for occasions such as club meetings, church suppers and hospital appearances. Since the young people are amateurs there are no fees involved. Any donations are used to charter a bus each year to make the trip to Cedar Point. Mr. Seymour also stated that since the Ansells were from Va. Beach they were available for appearances here and could be supplemented by other performers from Norfolk if the occasion required.

Manager Patrick stated that "Beginning Sept. 1 all new applicants and others requiring a change in number for various reasons would receive the new all digit telephone number."

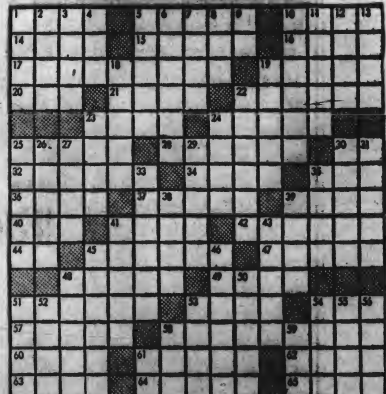

The payroll savings plan where you work is a painless savings plan for buying U.S. Savings Bonds on partial payments.

Beach Musicians Score

Three musicians in one family above is the story of the Hope Ansell family. The youngsters have just returned from the International Music Festival in Ohio where they carried off honors in accordion and group competition. From left, Charles, Marjorie and Carolyn at the piano. Carolyn won first place in the accordion competition.

Richard Maltby, Orchestra Here

Richard Maltby, the conductor, arranger with plaquettes from Artie Shaw, Ethel Merman, Benny Goodman, Lisa Kirk and the top brass of Columbia Records and Muzak, brings his celebrated talent and orchestra to The Cavalier Beach & Cabana Club on July 8th.

Established as one of the "big" bands in the country, Dick now records for Columbia records and Sonac Radio Transcriptions, turning out tunes, according to the trade, that are good listening, extremely danceable and always in good taste.

Richard Maltby's prowess as an arranger is evidenced by his writing the music for and conducting the Vaughan Monroe Color TV Show, his being personal musical arranger for Ethel Merman.

The calibre of his orchestra is also noted by his appearances on TV, "The Jackie Gleason Show," "Whitman's Greatest Band Show." He has been guest conductor on the National Radio Fan Club on NBC and the NBC Bandstand, as well as guest star of the day on both Monitor and Weekday Shows.

His engagement at The Cavalier "becomes more impressive through excerpts from Life Magazine which describes Maltby as "An enterprising band leader in tune with the times" . . . and the New Yorker's comment, "Richard Maltby's Orchestra rolls out a steady, reliable brand of music to which anyone can dance."

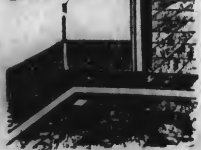

On the discs, Maltby is well-known for such favorites as "Hello Young Lovers," "St. Louis Blues Mambo," "Man With The Golden Arm," "Swingin' Down The Lane" and countless other prizes of Hi-Fi and Stereo libraries.

This orchestra is scheduled from July 14th and rates as one of the highlight bands of The Cavalier's 1960 schedule.

More than $72 billion in U.S. Savings Bonds has been used in the past 19 years to improve or buy new homes, for education, retirement, and other benefits for the savers and their families.

Honeymoon Afternoon

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. First, let us go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Memories are precious things. I remember often the afternoon on our honeymoon when Jim and I visited these old cliff dwellings in Colorado. Later, we stopped at a mission church built of pink adobe. It was dark and cool inside, and you felt that many prayers had been said here, and many answered.

I thought of our own church back home - white frame, in a green New England valley. I was reared in that church, I was married in it, and you'll find Jim and me at worship in it each Sunday. It's a vital part of our life.

Unless you have a church that is vital to your life, you are missing something irreplaceable. Don't wait any longer. Select the Church of your choice - and start attending it this Sunday.

Boosting Your Insurance

Here is a sound Rule-of-Thumb that every property owner can follow: If your fire insurance has been in effect for a number of years without review or revision, it's an odds on bet that you are seriously underinsured.

Since 1945, the statistics show, the cost of home building has just about doubled so if your home was insured in 1945 and you have not increased the amount of insurance that you carried as of that date, you can imagine what could happen to your pocketbook if fire strikes.

What is true of your home itself is true of practically everything inside it. For instance, the cost of household furniture, clothing, appliances—almost every item found in the home—has more than doubled since 1940. Then too you have added new furniture, new appliances, T.V. sets, sewing machines, and many other items and you probably have neglected to increase the insurance on your household and personal effects. These "little things" add up to a surprisingly big total when an accurate inventory is made.

The remedy is for you to review your present coverage, the amount of insurance you carry on your dwelling and the amount of insurance you carry on your household and personal effects. Don't be caught half-insured in the event that disaster strikes you.

We would be pleased for you to consult us to see if the amount of insurance you are now carrying is in line with present day values.

Employment Service Changes Name as of July 1

Harold Bender, Mgr., announced that effective July 1, 1960 the Unemployment Compensation Commission—Virginia State Employment Service will be known as the Virginia Employment Commission.

The 1960 General Assembly changed the name from the Unemployment Compensation Commission in order to accentuate its Employment Service.

The Virginia Employment Commission has numerous overseas clerical positions and is conducting an examination for openings with the Commonwealth of Virginia. Any persons desiring further information regarding overseas jobs or state positions are advised to contact the Virginia Employment Commission, 409 17th St., Virginia Beach.

In a poll of candidates for Mrs. America of 1960 it was learned that eight out of ten had saved through United States Savings Bonds to buy their homes.

Beach Youngsters Play

The second week of the City of Virginia Beach recreation program was highlighted with a beach party. More than 200 children and parents enjoyed the hottest day of the year swimming, hiking, and sun basking. Forty pounds of hot dogs and soft drinks were served for lunch. Everyone had a good sun burning time.

Mrs. Avett's classes in arts and crafts were busy during the week designing and making Indian costumes, paper birds, coloring and free hand drawing. This week the children will be instructed in the use of crepe paper for making novelties.

Recreational activities for the week will be a table tennis tournament which will be held at each playground this Friday. The tournament is open to all children who are participating in the program.

The total morning and afternoon weekly attendance took another jump to 1700 children who took an active part in the recreation program. Mr. Tepo, the recreation director, stated there is room for more children. Children from Virginia Beach are encouraged to attend because the program is for them. The playgrounds at Cooke School and Virginia Beach High School are open five days a week from 9-12 and 1-4 p.m.

Fisher Body Craftsman's Model Car Competition

Selection of the winners in the 1960 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition begins today, with the judges carefully evaluating each model car entry on the basis of workmanship, originality, and practicability of design. The judging teams are comprised of industrial arts instructors acting as judges of craftsmanship, and designers from GM's Styling Staff, working as styling judges.

Instruments especially designed for judging these model cars are utilized by the experienced judges in determining the correct wheel base, overall length, width and height. In addition to evaluating the originality and artistic merit of a model car, the styling judges must decide if the young craftsman has allowed for such things as sufficient passenger space, reasonable provisions for luggage, and adequate bumper protection.

This year's competition offers to boys between the ages of 11 and 20 years, the opportunity to share $117,000 in awards, including $38,000 in university scholarships. Since 1939, Fisher Body has awarded 217 university scholarships valued at more than $607,000. Over $1,000,000 in cash and other awards has gone to thousands of young boys winning state and regional honors.

State and regional winners for 1960 will be announced early in July. National scholarship winners will be disclosed at the annual Guild Award Banquet held in Detroit on July 28.

Duplicate awards will be made to sons of General Motors employees if they win, thus insuring that all awards will be open to boys outside GM.

More than $72 billion in U.S. Savings Bonds has been used in the past 19 years to improve or buy new homes, for education, retirement, and other benefits for the savers and their families.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

For the very latest in food fads and fancies... for special, delectable recipes... and the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark, each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Perennial Hamburger
Shapes Up Special
For Grill Season
Hamburger is king of the grill in the outdoor barbecue world, and appetites need no prodding to enjoy it. Variety is pleasant, however, and the homemaker can do it in two ways: vary the flavor and vary the shape. Here a pie-burger wheel is presented, but the shape may be that of a doughnut or of a rolling pin. Several wheels one smaller than the other, can be pyramided—or delight the children with "Squared Away" hamburgers.

Hamburger can be hamburger—just plain. It can have "stretchers" added—or can be flavored with spices and favorite condiments.
Chili, refreshing start—to this warm summer day's menu is a nugget of thoroughly chilled, refreshingly light soup shake made with soup... In this case, chicken. Soups made with dairy products take happily to chilling as witness the popularity of vichyssoise. Chilling accentuates the creaminess of cream based soups and provides a good contrast for bits of chives, the tang of new green onions or other favorite zesty flavors. In this soupshake, nutmeg and lemon rind are a pleasant and different Flavor addition.

Slightly, the soupshake can be prepared in advance. It is the only ready to serve, but is thoroughly chilled by that time—a must for serving cold soup.

Menu
Frosted Chicken-Lemon Soupshake
Pineapple Wheel
Grilled Tomato-Onion Stacks
Green Bean Colelaw
Pickles
Creamy Bread
Fresh Peaches
Hot Coffee

Frosted Chicken-Lemon Soupshake
4 can (10-oz.) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 soup can milk
1 soup can light cream
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Whipped cream
Grated lemon rind
In jar or container with cover, combine soup, milk, light cream, and nutmeg. Shake well until mixture is smooth. Place in refrigerator for at least 4 hours. Serve in chilled bowls. Just before serving, shake until soup is frothy. Garnish each serving with a spoonful of whipped cream dusted with lemon rind or additional nutmeg. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Pieburger Wheel
1 1/2 to 2 pounds ground beef
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon onion salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 cup catsup
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire
Mix ground beef, salt, onion salt and pepper. Flatten meat into circle about 9 inches in diameter. Grill slowly; turn once. Serve in pie shaped wedges with mixture of catsup, salad oil and vinegar. Makes 6 servings.

Grilled Tomato-Onion Stacks
3 tomatoes, halved
6 thick slices onions
Salt and pepper
Salad oil
Place tomatoes and onions on grill; sprinkle with salt, pepper and a few drops salad oil. Grill slowly. Place onion slice on top of each tomato half; serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

Green Bean Colelaw
6 cups shredded cabbage
1 package (9 oz.) frozen green beans, cooked and drained
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon celery salt
Combine cabbage and green beans. Blend mayonnaise, salad oil, vinegar, salt and celery salt. Toss dressing with cabbage mixture. Makes 6 servings.

Now if you don't want to plan an outdoor meal but want to keep cool on a hot summer's day—just plan ahead your menu, one you can prepare in the cool of the morning.

I'm sure if you're planning to have guests for dinner, they'll be delighted with this summery menu. In this summery menu, the "cold start" and "blazing" finish. Soup, a starter for meals throughout the year, is sometimes neglected during the hot weather. Here it is prettily and tastefully served frosty cold. Soup, is an economical dish and when set in a bed of ice and served in crystal clear glasses falls handsomely in the "gourmet" class. Made of mushroom soup and milk, it simply has chopped fresh dill or minced chives added to it for a pleasant tang, and is topped with a dollop of sour cream, if desired. This beverage is served to best advantage in tall glasses, old fashion glases, goblets, or glass mugs. The added bed of ice for serving is a cool extra touch for a hot night, and is so little trouble as opening a can of soup.

A light-bodied casserole is ideal for summertime consumption, as it is so easy to handle. For a cold winter's night, and during and after the grill, Helen Belle Fowler top off this soup as a brothy summer meal. Served in bread cutters, they look festive. The addition of lemon-extract soaked sugar cubes to this dessert for lighting, ends the meal in a "blaze of glory".

The National Outlook

Vice President Nixon made a speech in St. Louis before the Junior Chamber of Commerce in which he spelled out in more detail than ever before his views on economic growth. It was a good brief analysis in its own right, but even more important it attempted to distinguish between the thinking of Nixon and what he maintained is the opposition view.

His first point was that everyone is in favor of growth—that this is a game which may well be called "growthmanship"—but that equally significant is the kind of growth and how it is brought about.

Secondly, Mr. Nixon turned to the comparison of our growth rate with that of Russia, and such comparisons obviously rather annoy him. He thinks that we must never underestimate the "fantastical purpose" of Russia, but that it is inaccurate and meaningless to use the Russian growth rate as a basis for appraising that of this nation. He cites three reasons for this:

The vast difference in the economic advancement of the two nations; the basic and fundamental variation in philosophies of Russia and the United States; and the enormous difference in total production of the two nations—or the fact that Russia is only producing about 44 per cent as much as we are; and that rate is not becoming smaller as the years pass and cannot be increased enough to overtake the United States during this century.

Next, the vice president turned to the proper function of government in relation to growth. He listed six points on this:

1. Avoid as much as possible interference with decisions made in the private sector of the economy.
2. Pursue a sound fiscal policy and prevent inflation.
3. Act vigorously against abuses and economic power which hinder efficiency and greater productivity.
4. Have a tax structure which will not frustrate new and creative enterprise.
5. Pursue economic policies abroad which are compatible with our domestic philosophy.
6. Prevent and correct wide swings in business activity by intelligent use of fiscal policies and sensible provision against widespread unemployment.

Finally, Mr. Nixon summarized his belief as to the proper role of government in general, not just as related to economic growth. It is his view that "where private enterprise can't or won't do the job, government activity is not only justified but essential." But by government he emphasized he meant Federal, state and local. He also emphasized that whenever we consider government spending, or government investment in the public sector, we must apply the test of whether the benefits will exceed the cost.

This particular Nixon speech was short and unquestionably was shall hear more from him on many of these points before the campaign is over. This is highly desirable because there is room for serious argument on some of the statements he made. To cite merely three examples: He polishes off the Russian comparison a bit too easily; the use of fiscal policies to prevent and correct wide business variations smacks of compensatory spending (which does not work); and just what does he mean when he speaks of private enterprise being unwilling to do a job?

Taken as a whole, however, it was an encouraging speech and it is to be hoped that Mr. Nixon will give us more of them.

Area Veterans Awarded $753,264 For Fiscal Year

The Division of War Veterans' Claims, a Virginia State Government agency in the McKeever Bldg. at 203 City Hall Ave., Norfolk, reports on activities for the fiscal year, July 1, 1959-June 30, 1960.

Thomas A. Moore, area director, states that the number of persons assisted exceeds previous years, but that the amount of monetary annual awards obtained is less. Parts of the report reveal that more veterans and their survivors are being interviewed, and more forms and correspondence handled for less actual monetary return than in previous years.

Moore has operated the Norfolk office for 14 years. He says the trend is to be expected, inasmuch as World War I claims are beginning to lessen as these veterans die, and World War II and Korean claims are not yet in full swing, though increasing.

Moore's office interviewed 9,742 persons last fiscal year, answered 3,400 telephone calls on veterans' affairs, and handled almost 24,800 pieces of mail.

Death claims for widows, children and parents totaled 283 and applications for disability compensation and pension for living veterans totaled 408.

Assistance was given in obtaining hospitalization for 237 veterans and out-patient medical treatment for 142 more.

Insurance claims and forms aggregated 273, and 253 claims of all types were reopened, with 41 appeals filed.

Miscellaneous claims, such as burial benefits, State bonuses, and arrears in service pay, and others, total 1,274. Evidence submitted to substantiate claims and applications were 5,503; and miscellaneous service relating to veterans' affairs were 6,672.

The above work necessitated travel of 4,501 miles and Moore's attendance at various meetings totaling 44, with 10 talks made on veterans' benefits.

Moore's office handles the cities of Norfolk, South Norfolk and Virginia Beach and the Counties of Northampton, Accomac and Princess Anne.

Running awards from the three previous years were estimated at $1,050. These actual compensation and pension awards since fiscal 1958 aggregate $3,279,071. Moore explains that these running awards are figured only on the amount of benefits paid annually in such cases.

Total annual new awards obtained in this 12-month period in Norfolk were $466,901, in South Norfolk $60,766, in Virginia Beach $69,456, in Princess Anne County $36,408, in Northampton County $48,500, and in Accomac County $51,231. These total $733,264 for the fiscal 1960, which is about $71-000 less than in fiscal 1959.

Service-connected disability compensation claims total over $22,000 and non-service pension claims totaled almost $194,000. Death claims totaled over $173,000 and Government Insurance benefits totaled $126,610. Training subsistence allowance was down over $14,000 from 1959, to $54,834, and various miscellaneous claims of quite a variety and number were slightly over $113,500.

Moore's office is operated under the Virginia State Department of Law, the Honorable Albert S. Harrison, Jr., Attorney General, as Department head. The Office of the Director, Mr. Harry F. Carper, Jr., is located in the Veterans Administration Bldg. in Roanoke, Va. The services of the office are without any charge or obligation.

Vet Service Officer To Visit Beach

T. A. Moore, service officer for veterans and their survivors, working for the State government of Virginia, will assist citizens without charge, on Thursday July 14, 1960, at the Virginia Beach Convention Center located at Pacific Ave. and 19th St., between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Moore's office in Norfolk is located at 203 McKeever Building, 203 City Hall Ave., phone MA 2-9871.

FARM BUILDING PLANS
AVAILABLE THROUGH AGENTS
Building a new house — a barn — or a machinery shed?

If you are planning any new construction on your farm, you'll likely profit if you check with me about VPI's farm building service. I can let you see what plans are available.

The plans are for typical farm service buildings and homes which are recommended for the many different farm situations throughout Virginia. The plans were developed over many years on the basis of research and field experience.

DEADLINE NIGH FOR SEEDING SUMMER PASTURE

The deadline's nigh for seeding supplemental summer pasture in Virginia.

Dr. H. L. Dunkton, head of the agronomy department, says seedan grass or pearl millet will give a boost to the feed supply, but they should be seeded before July 1. They'll furnish grazing for 2 to 3 weeks later. If you don't need grazing, put them in the silo.

Farmers who seed millet might try the new variety, Gah 1. It's topped the regular commercial pearl millet in Virginia tests.

Dr. Dunkton says it's also about time to check the corn crop. It may need additional nitrogen. There is no definite rule of thumb about this, but the agronomist says if the corn does not follow a regular pattern, less than 75 pounds of nitrogen in the fertilizer was applied at planting time, and if no manure was added, then you likely need additional nitrogen. Contact me for more definite recommendations for individual farms.

There are other timely crop production jobs on the farm, Dr. Dunkton says.

Send in soil samples now for crops to be seeded in late summer or fall. Be sure to take the sample properly. Directions and containers for mailing to VPI testing laboratories are available from professional agricultural workers in your county.

Varietal recommendations are already out for crops to be seeded this fall. I will be happy to give you a copy of the recommendations for you to study carefully, and try to select the variety that will be best suited to your farm. Bad weather may have prevented you from fertilizing permanent pastures in late winter as you planned. Check to see if your pastures need fertilizing. Here again, a soil sample will give an indication of the fertilizer needs on pasture.

ALFALFA PROBLEMS

Recent research on the feeding of alfalfa to dairy cattle has shown that higher rates of phosphate in feed are needed when alfalfa is used. W. W. Lewis, associated with the Agricultural Extension Service at VPI, has a 9-1-1 ratio fertilizer with which he has been successful.

The experiments showed that feeding alfalfa plants responded to phosphate and better stands resulted when a fertilizer high in phosphate was used.

Lewis says the research has led to several recommendations as follows: Apply fertilizer containing 30 to 35 pounds of phosphate and 75 to 100 pounds of potash per acre at seeding. This plant food can be obtained in 60 to 200 pounds of 9-3-15 borated fertilizer or the equivalent.

When seeding alfalfa on light-textured soils or soils low in fertility, use fertilizer containing 30 to 35 pounds of phosphate, 120 to 144 pounds of potash per acre. This can be obtained in 1,000 to 1,200 pounds of borated 9-23-12 fertilizer per acre.

Lewis recommends that farmers get a soil test now in fields to be seeded to alfalfa in August. In fact, he says, get a soil sample now for all late summer and fall seeded crops. The soil tests, with information about the soils and past history, can be a valuable tool in determining the best fertilizer and whether or not lime is needed for the crop to be grown.

EGGS ARE SUBJECT TO MISUNDERSTANDING

Eggs have been subject to many misunderstandings, says Dr. E. O. Essary, poultry scientist at VPI. For instance, some people contend that eggs with brown shells have better quality and more food value than those with white shells. "Not so," Dr. Essary says. "Scientists have found no difference in quality or flavor between eggs of different shell colors. Shell color is caused by heredity. And if you eat cooked eggs while they are still in the shell, you won't be able to tell which shell an egg came from." Here are other corrections:

If you want eggs of high quality, always buy the largest ones available, says some. The scientist doubts this statement, also. A large egg may be of either A, B, or C quality, the same as a small egg. Size does not determine quality.

Or you might think fertile eggs are more nutritious than non-fertile ones. There's really no difference. All that has been added to a fertile egg is a microscopic male sperm. Maybe someone has told you darker yolk eggs are more nutritious than lighter yolk eggs. Not true! Xanthophyll is the main substance affecting shade, and it has no food value. Darker yolks occur when layers are fed lots of yellow corn, grass, or alfalfa leaf meal containing xanthophyll. Light yolks occur when layers receive vitamins A and D from feeding oil instead of from plant sources. Some people think eggs are hard to digest. There are no experimental data to back up this theory. A soft-cooked egg is digested more completely than a raw or hard-cooked egg. A twisted white cord on each side of the egg yolk was not put there by the male, as some claim. The white cord is called chalazae and is a normal part of the egg.

It anchors the yolk to the layer of chick membrane, and in some cases by not male birds have been in the flock.

WAY TO DETERMINE PROTEIN IN MILK DEVELOPED AT VPI

A quick and relatively easy way to determine the total protein in milk has been developed by dairy researchers at VPI.

The scientists explain that milk's nutritive value is determined largely by the amount of milk fat and milk protein it contains. Milk fat content is tested regularly by dairies and dairy cattle breed associations. Protein, however, is not regularly tested, mainly because the present official method (the Kjeldahl method) is too involved to make large-scale tests easily.

The method developed at VPI makes possible the determination of total milk protein in milk of individual cows with the same ease and speed as is now done with milk fat.

Today, in Europe, some milk-pricing systems are based on both the fat and protein content. Also, nutritionists are placing more emphasis on the high quality milk proteins.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK:

Q.—Second growth on alfalfa is being retarded, with some of it turning brown. What is the cause?

A.—Weather conditions have encouraged the development of leaf spot in many areas. Another possible cause is lack of modulation. If the leaves are turning brown, mow the alfalfa earlier than usual to save as much as possible.

Q.—Should I spray to control the European corn borer on field corn?

A.—It is not considered practical in Virginia to apply chemicals to control the corn borer on field corn.

IRISH POTATO IMPROVEMENT

To date, the potato insect infestation has been one of the lightest on record on the Eastern Shore. It should be emphasized, though, that there is still time for insects to damage late maturing varieties.

of potatoes. The potato leafhopper quite often causes extensive damage late in the season, especially if the weather turns dry. DDT, Thiodan and Sevin all give excellent leafhopper control.

Considerable confusion has existed concerning the determination of DDT residues on sweet corn. The DDT residue of 7 ppm will be determined on the kernels and cob only after removal of the husks. This will mean that the grower can use DDT closer to harvest than heretofore. Do not use DDT within 3 days of harvest. Do not sell treated DDT forage or husks, or feed to livestock.

In tests at the Painter Experiment station with DDT and sevin sprays we have observed only an occasional earworm coming in when treatments were stopped 7 days before harvest. If the sweet corn was clean at the time of treatment, a reinfestation did not occur when the last treatment was applied at 5 days pre-harvest.

SEVIN CLEARED ON SWEET CORN

Effective June 17, 1960 Sevin has been approved for use on sweet corn.

A tolerance of 5 ppm has been established in or on sweet corn ears based on the kernels and cob only. This residue is to be determined after removing husks present when the corn is marketed. Use 1 1/2 lbs. of Sevin per acre. There is no time restriction on the data of last application.

A tolerance of 25 ppm of Sevin has been established in or on corn fodder and forage. Treated fodder and forage may be fed to dairy or beef cattle 7 days after the last spray or dust.

Sevin is considerably more effective against the sap beetle than DDT.

PARATHION ON SWEET CORN

A parathion residue of 1 ppm is allowed on sweet corn as is. This means that the entire ear, kernels, cob, husks, and silk will be used as a basis for determination. Parathion should be dropped from the spray schedule approximately 7 days after silking.

Seeking Sunken Marble

This is the salvage operation currently underway in the Atlantic Ocean south of Virginia Beach near the North Carolina line. The prize is approximately 11,000 tons of marble from the remains of the Norwegian barkentine Clythia, sunk in the Atlantic in 1894. Estimates of the value of the marble has run as high as $800,000.

Sunken Marble Object of Search; Lost Back in 1894

Salvage work is continuing out in the Atlantic Ocean south of Virginia Beach in an effort to retrieve sunken marble that has rested on the ocean's floor since 1894.

According to Mason Gamage, Princess Anne County Commissioner, estimates of the value of the marble have reached as high as one million dollars.

About ten days ago William E. Moulton, a county lumber broker, and his partners began searching for the sunken treasure. The marble is part of the cargo of the Norwegian barkentine Clythia that sank in the Atlantic in 1894 near the North Carolina line.

Louis Bottino, president of the Ajax Tile and Marble Co. of Norfolk, examined samples of the marble, Friday. He declined today to estimate the value of the marble but said it may be worth "anywhere from $2 to $7 a cubic foot." It is believed there are 11,000 tons of marble aboard the Clythia. At $2 to $7 per cubic foot, the marble would be worth between $220,000 and $770,000.

Under state law, Gamage is entitled to 5 per cent of the salvaged material up to $10,000 and a larger percentage of the remainder.

"The marble appears to be in excellent shape up to below about two inches from its surface," Gamage said. "The surface is covered with holes, but beneath that it is milk white and hard. As statue

AD INDUSTRY

The ad industry—there are about 3,300 agencies employing 46,000 people which produce much of the national advertising. However, local advertising accounts for 40 per cent of total outlays, and a good portion of this volume is created by the advertisers themselves without help from outside agencies. Nearly one-third of all advertising and more than 60 per cent of local advertising appears in newspapers. Television ads account for 14 per cent of total outlays.

1960 Boardwalk Art Show Best; Record Crowds Attend

Despite rain which has become an accepted part of the program the Fifth Annual Boardwalk Art Show concluded here on Monday and more than $12,000 in paintings were sold during the five days of the show. The event is sponsored annually by the Virginia Beach Art Association.

More than 2,000 works of art were exhibited by 193 artists over a six-block area making the affair the largest in its history.

A still life by Glenn Heaton of Virginia Beach was selected best in the show at the Saturday afternoon judging.

L. D. Durham of Norfolk won second place and Theodore Turner of Charlottesville, third.

Heaton of the 500 block of 47th St., studied at Maryland Institute of Arts in Baltimore and is now painting and teaching in Virginia Beach. His winning piece was entitled "Bud Vase."

Durham is on the faculty of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk and Turner is from the University of Virginia.

Judges were William H. Gerdtz Jr., curator of paintings and sculpture of the Newark (N.J.) Museum; William M. Halsey, artist from Charleston, S.C. and Parker Leslev, associate professor of arts at the College of William and Mary in Norfolk.

Elwood P. Dowd was never played, even on Broadway, by a better actor than our own Wade Williams. Everyone who we talked with was in agreement that Ann Pennington was as close to a show stealer as they come. Her performance was one of the best she has ever done, although we have seen her in many of the Little Theatre plays and also in the production of "The Confederacy." All the other players deserve a tip of the hat for a job well done.

We feel sure that anyone visiting here and attending this play went away with the feeling of a very good night's entertainment at Virginia Beach. All we can say in closing is "More, More, More, and Soon."

"From Our Rotary Club To Your Club"

These were the words spoken by Jack Wooten, left, vice-president of the Falls Church Rotary Club, last week as he presented the district governor standard to the Virginia Beach Rotary Club. He succeeded Wend Pendleton, a member of the Falls Church club, in that office on July 1. The banner will be passed on next July to the home club of the Rotarian who succeeds Kellam in the top district post. In the center is Robert D. Wilson, president of the Virginia Beach Rotary Club. Crab Shortage to End Soon

The shortage of crabs which has plagued Chesapeake Bay crab fishermen and producers of crab meat since January 1960 will end by mid-summer, scientists at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory, Gloucester Point, reported today.

Mr. Willard A. Van Engel, head of the crab research team at the Laboratory reports that at least three times as many soft and peeler crabs were caught in June of this year as were landed in the same period in 1959. "This verifies again our belief that a large supply of crabs was produced from spawning in mid-summer 1959," he stated. Numerous fingernail-sized crabs were caught in November, 1959, during one of the Laboratory's regular monthly surveys.

"Soft and peeler crabs should remain abundant through August," Van Engel predicted, "and crab-potters will have above average catches throughout August and this fall, while the winter dredge catches will be larger than usual in 1960-61. Hard crab catches by pots and peeler catches with scrapes and fykes should remain high during spring and early summer, 1961, barring the unforeseen."

Predictions of catches a year in the future are based on observations of the number of small crabs caught with an experimental trawl from the "Pathfinder," the Laboratory's research vessel, and from reports of the hard and peeler crabs caught by commercial crabbers.

From such information, Van Engel predicted in 1958 that the winter dredge fishery in 1959-60 would be below average and that hard crab catches in the spring and early summer would be poor.

Although the winter dredge catch was much better in December than Van Engel anticipated, there was a sharp decline in January, and things went from bad to worse.

When crabs become scarce, as they have these past six months, some crabbers express fear that the crab fishery is declining and often remedial efforts are sometimes suggested which will regulate the fishery through laws. Quite often these suggestions are not based on scientific knowledge.

"It is a mistake to restrict the number of crabs a man may catch unless by so doing you improve the whole crab fishery," Van Engel declared. "Apparently the number of crabs caught by man is not a significant cause of shortages. As far as we can tell the crab crop is determined by natural happenings—the amount and type of food available to larval and young crabs, for instance. Food supply may be affected by rainfall and temperature. Plankton-feeding fish and other predators may consume large numbers of crab larvae. Diseases may take their toll. Pollution may exclude crabs from some areas."

One female crab produces about 1½ million young. Only two of these need survive to maturity to keep the crab population at its normal level. When survival is slightly better than two per female, there is an increase in numbers of adults. If the survival is just slightly under two, there is a decrease in numbers.

Conservation means "wise-use of the resource" and for the blue crab this implies catching crabs before they die a natural death so that their meat will not be wasted.

"Waste should be eliminated, wherever it occurs," emphasized Van Engel who went on to explain: "In order to help do so we are in the final stages of an experiment designed to test new mesh-sizes for crab pots. Small crab which escape from the pots through use of new-sized wire mesh should grow larger and add many pounds to the catch."

During the past fifteen years the annual average Virginia catch has been about 33 million pounds. The largest production occurred in 1959 when over 40 million pounds were harvested. Quite often when the catch changes from such a high figure to average, many watermen are alarmed at what they consider to be a scarcity of crabs, for the tendency is to compare at production to that of the best year and not to the average as should be done.

Changes in the catch from year to year often work a hardship on both crabbers and producers. Accurate predictions, made by Virginia's marine scientists should forewarn crabbers so that they may seek an income outside of crabbing (they may turn to oystering, fishing, or take a temporary job on land), and packers can plan the amount of meat they will pasteurize and freeze to place on the market during poor seasons when not enough meat will be available to meet the demand. This will tend to stabilize the industry and prove ultimately beneficial to crabbers, producers, and consumers.

Beach Art Groups Jo in Hands

Realizing that united they could accomplish more and make a greater contribution to the community the several organizations in Virginia Beach demonstrated last week just what uniting could mean. They teamed together to give Virginia Beach the most successful and significant art week in the history of the community.

The several groups are known as the Allied Arts Association of Virginia Beach and the climax of this joint effort was the presentation of the delightful comedy, "Harvey", here last Thursday. The organizations making up the united group are the Virginia Beach Little Theatre, Virginia Beach Art Assn., Virginia Beach Concert Assn., Council of Garden Clubs and the Virginia Beach Civic Chorus.

To present "Harvey" last Thursday meant that many individual members of the Allied Arts Assn. had to sacrifice much of their time, particularly was this so over the July 4th weekend when rehearsals were going on almost around the clock. And, from all reports the play was a tremendous hit with the public. The consensus was that the play had good direction and each member of the cast gave an excellent performance. The play was undertaken by the group to round out art week at Virginia Beach in conjunction with the Boardwalk Art Show and the Jazz Festival.

The ultimate aim of the Allied Arts Association is to eventually construct an art center here that would serve the five organizations making up the new united group. Members of the Allied Arts Assn. are to be congratulated for their fine efforts which are a benefit to everyone residing in our area. We wish them luck and success in their effort to establish an art center here.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

Sunday Law Fate Problematical

The Sunday blue law amendment which received landslide approval by the General Assembly a few months ago now has been ruled invalid by judges in Hampton, Lynchburg and Newport News, and its fate rests with the Virginia State Supreme Court of Appeals. Pending a ruling by that body on the issue first raised by Circuit Judge Frank A. Kearney of Hampton, enforcement will be delayed over much of the State.

We must leave to the legal fraternity the discussion of the question involved—whether the new blue law is void because it was a part of a section of the old criminal code which has been repealed. However, if the higher court upholds the challenge to the Sunday sales enactment, its supporters appear certain to bring it up again at the next General Assembly session.

If that is done, the legislators will have to ponder a factor which was not so prominent during their deliberations earlier this year. The evolving public attitude toward the blue law. While there have been many professions of support of a ban on Sunday sales and comparatively few expressions of opposition in recent months, there hasn't been any effective boycott of stores on that day. Expressions of indignation by customers—or would-be customers—weren't uncommon on July 3, the first Sunday—and the only one thus far—that the enactment was effective.

One store was noted to be presenting a cooked food item not ordinarily featured, thus circumventing the provision against selling food that would have to be prepared before eating. If the new law is ruled effective, more of that type of evasion of the spirit of the law can be expected.

A few years ago, Sunday shopping facilities were few, in this locality and their scarcity resulted in no great hardship. When a few stores opened their doors on Sunday and began drawing in the customers, their competitors—some quite reluctantly—followed suit. Understandably, they couldn't afford to let the other man take all this business.

Now a habit has been formed. Families which formerly did all their shopping during the week found it handy to pick up a few items on Sunday; later some discovered it was a convenient day to buy all their groceries and supplies. Changing this habit, relatively recently formed that it was, results in irritation and resistance.

If the blue law amendment is thrown out, as is at least possible, the General Assembly will have to take the shifting attitude of the public into account before deciding whether to reinstate it. Even those strongly inclined in favor of Sunday closing must admit that the general sentiment here on the Peninsula appears to have undergone a change. Deplorable though this is to those who would seek to preserve the age-old role of Sunday as the day of rest, it is a fact. The law now under attack, with its categories of items that can, and cannot, be sold on Sunday, is confusing at best; if it is found to be invalid, it's safe to say that its reinstatement will not be easy.—From Newport News Times-Herald.

Camp Fire Girl Stamp Coming in November

The 4-cent Camp Fire Girls commemorative stamp, to be first placed on sale November 1, 1960, in New York, N.Y., will feature the insignia of that group, according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. The stamp was designed by H. Edward Oliver of Wilson, Conn.

Announcement of the issuance of this stamp was made over a year ago, on June 26, 1959. It will be released to coincide with the Golden Jubilee Convention celebration of the Camp Fire Girls, which will be held in New York City. The Camp Fire Girls movement was launched in 1910 by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Halsey Gulick. The first camp fires were held on the Gulick's estate. More than half a million girls are currently a part of this organization, and over ten million girls have participated in the program since it was founded on March 17, 1910.

The stamp design is highlighted by the insignia of the organization—crossed logs with flame within a designed triangle. The design, of course, will be in red, and the logs and insignia frame in blue. On the outer sides of the insignia, in a lighter shade of blue, is a stippled effect. The years, "1910" and "1960" in the upper corners, and "United States Postage" at the bottom, to the left, are in blue, and the denomination "4c" in the lower right will be red.

Printing will be on the official paper, sheeted, and perforated by the Lyster perforating machine. The stamps will measure 0.84 by 1.0 inch, arranged vertically, and insurance will be in sheets of fifty subjects. An initial order of 120 million has been placed.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the 4-cent Camp Fire Girls commemorative stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New York 1, N.Y. A close-fitting enclosure of postal card thickness should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed. Collectors should bear in mind that this is a vertical stamp and covers should be addressed low and as far to the left as possible.

Envelopes submitted should be of ordinary letter size and each must be properly addressed. An envelope must not be sent for the return of first day covers and orders for covers must not include requests for uncanceled stamps. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be addressed "First Day Covers 4-cent Camp Fire Girls Stamp."

H. Edward Oliver, the designer, was born in New York City, and studied at the Cooper Union Art School and the Art Students League. He was a type designer and package designer for Remington Rand, designing fourteen typefaces for their business machines. He subsequently designed the "Century" typeface for the Royal Typewriter Co.

He presently designs packaging, trade marks, logos, catalogs, brochures and advertisements in his Westport studio, and does oil portraits, book jackets and colla-

Andy Griffith
Tops Guest List
At 'Lost Colony'

By Abeck Brown

Andy Griffith, Tarheel-born star of soap, screen, and television, who once played the colorful role of Sir Walter Raleigh in The Last Colony, and Mrs. Griffith, the first North Carolinian to play the lead role of Eleanor Dare in the drama, will top a large list of former Lost Colony Company members who will be special guests of this oldest of all outdoor dramas on Saturday night, July 9, at Waterside Theatre where Performance No. 1000 is presented.

A blanket invitation to all former actors and members of The Lost Colony Company is being issued via press, radio and television by the show's general manager, J. Sib Dorton and Mrs. O. Max Gardner, president of Roanoke Island Historical Assn., sponsor of the drama.

"It is impossible to send individual invitations to the several thousand persons who have had role in The Lost Colony since its premiere in 1937. They have suffered to the four corners of the world. Therefore we are hoping so that they know they are invited through the various news releasing outlets such as weekly and daily newspapers, radio and television," said Dorton.

The 1000th performance observation will be presented during intermission of the show on Saturday night before The Last Colony audience who will be gathered at Waterside Theatre. A featured attraction of the party to be held on the great stage of Waterside Theatre will be a large candle covered replica of a cake—and lighting the candles will be a role that the Griffiths, Andy and Barbara have. A backdrop for this phase of the intermission party will be all members of the 1960 Company and cast. There will be special music by the famous Lost Colony Chorus under direction of George Trautwein, and there will be words of greeting from Andy Griffith on behalf of former members of the Company, and especially those who due to distance or other reasons will be absent from the party.

All former cast members will be admitted free to the performance after they have signed a Guest Book at the gates of Fort Raleigh.

Your Social SecurityBy KARL W. THINKER
Fifth Representative

The General Assembly of Virginia at its last session passed a law to legalize marriages contracted during the waiting period where certain conditions have been met. Any wife or widow, whose social security claim was denied because she remarried during the waiting period, may now qualify for social security benefits. It was announced today by J. A. Morrison, District Manager, Norfolk Social Security Office.

Wives and widows affected by the amended law, who are otherwise eligible for social security benefits, should contact their social security office immediately for assistance in the filing of their claim.

Briefly, the new State law now makes it possible for the Social giving their names and present address, and the roles they once had in The Lost Colony cast or Company.

Security Administration to make payments to wives in these situations who have lived continuously with their husbands since the date of the previously defective marriage through July 1, 1960. Payment to such wives can begin no earlier than July 1960. Payments to widows previously disallowed because of this defect can begin with June 1960 if husband and wife lived together from the date of marriage until the husband's death even though his death occurred before July 1, 1960. In each instance, a new application must be filed and appropriate proofs supplied.

The Norfolk Social Security Office is located at 220 W. Brambleton Ave.

Red Foley Slated To Appear at 1960 State Fair

The headman of ABC Television's "Jubilee U.S.A." Red Foley, will lead his famous talent in performances before the grandstand of the 1960 State Fair of Virginia. Of all today's TV stars, he is one of the top ten in demand for person shows. "Every time I step out on a stage for a personal appearance," says Foley, "I start having so much fun I feel guilty for not buying a ticket like the folks in the audience."

There were two boys in the family raised by Ben and Kate Foley of Berea, Ken. Both were nicknamed for the color of their hair—Red and Cotton. Red, who had learned to play one of the guitars from the stock of his father's little crossroads store, was graduated from Berea High, where he "lettered" in basketball and track, and was in his freshman year at Kentucky's Georgetown College when he was spotted at an amateur contest by a talent scout for Radio Station WLS. The only opening at the big Chicago station was for a bass-fiddle player and Red took the job, but within a few years he was headlining the entire "National Barn Dance." Later, he was started on "Rendro Valley Barn Dance," originating at WLW, Cincinnati, and Nashville's "Grand Ole Opry."

He moved to Springfield, Mo., in 1934 to help plan a great new Country Music program for television, and the "Jubilee" first took to the air on Jan. 22, 1935. It is presently the number one show of its kind, having been voted that Sixty-three cents a day isn't very much — you probably can save it without missing it at all. But in a month, it adds up to enough to buy an $18.75 Savings Bond, worth $25.00 to maturity.

If you buy one each month for just 40 months, at maturity your bonds will be worth $1000. There are two especially good things about saving money this easy way:

1. You do it without a struggle—with money you could easily have just dribbled away.
2. You get back 1/2 more than you save.

Why not start right now to lay away your $1000—or any amount you have in mind?

SOME ADVANTAGES YOU MIGHT THINK ABOUT

You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan. Tell your company how much to set aside from your pay for Bonds. This way you won't forget to save and your savings will add up automatically.

You now get 3 1/2% interest, to maturity. This new rate began June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959, earn more, too—an extra 1/4% from then to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash anytime at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The cash value of your Bond will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

If you want about	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000
each week save	$3.45	$10.85	$21.70

The National Outlook

For many, many years the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor has been attempting to measure productivity or output per manhour. It just announced its compilation for 1959, which revealed an increase of over 4 per cent as compared with 1958. Actually the figures are 4.2 to 4.4 per cent. This variation is the result of using two sets of employment data—establishment reports of payroll hours and labor force reports of individuals. This is worth noting because it gives one example of how difficult it is to get any figure that is worth printing. The Bureau is most conscious of these difficulties and also that the figures constantly are misused and have misleading conclusions read into them. But there is nothing the Bureau can do either to prevent this misuse or the misinterpretation.

Even granting the limited value of the figures there are some things that need to be said about them: First, it is customary for output per manhour to rise substantially after a recession. Various factors contribute to this, such as management adding employees only as they clearly are needed—the poor producers having been eliminated during the business downturn—and the introduction of all possible cost-saving processes and devices as volume rises. A 4 per cent-plus rise in 1959, therefore, does not give even an indication of what will or may happen in 1960. Second, a year-to-year change in productivity is never significant.

Rather, only the long-term trend is indicative of what really is happening in the economic system; and the longer the period covered, the better are the results because in the longer period some of the inevitable errors may be offset. For the entire postwar period 1947-1959 the annual increase was between 3.1 and 3.4 per cent, according to the Bureau depending upon which series of manhours is used. Considering that during this period there were three recessions, this is a rather remarkable showing, but the period is still too short to warrant hard and fast conclusions. Third, the rate of growth varies widely from one section of the economic system to another. For example, during 1960 agriculture showed practically no improvement in output per manhour, but for the entire postwar period the annual increase was 6 per cent. The Bureau has not published the rate by industries, but that unquestionably would reveal quite enormous variations and the same would be true if we had data on individual companies.

Fourth, the figure does not represent merely the contribution of labor. As the bureau puts it in its release, the figure measures "the combined effect of a number of interrelated influences, such as skills of workers, managerial skill, changes in technology, capital investment per worker, utilization of capacity, layout and flow of material, and labor-management relations." This means, of course, that the improvement is not a sound basis upon which to determine wages.

Finally, there is a vast difference between the increase in output per manhour and the growth rate of the economy as a whole. The best measure of the nation's growth rate is gross national product, which, it will be recalled, is the monetary value of all the goods and services produced in the nation. An increase in output per manhour is only one of innumerable elements entering and determining the gross national product. These comments may give the impression that it would be better if we simply stopped trying to measure productivity. That is far from true. We need the figure, and it will be calculated in any event. The need is to stop reading more in the calculation than is warranted.

Boosting Your Insurance

Here is a sound Rule-of-Thumb that every property owner can follow. If your fire insurance has been in effect for a number of years without review or revision, it's an odds-on bet that you are seriously under-insured.

Since 1945, the statistics show, the cost of home building has just about doubled so if your home was insured in 1945 and you have not increased the amount of insurance that you carried as of that date, you can imagine what could happen to your pocketbook if the strikes.

What is true of your home itself is true of practically everything inside it. For instance, the cost of household furniture, clothing, appliances—almost every item found in the home—has more than doubled since 1940. Then too you have added new furniture, new appliances, T.V. sets, sewing machines, and many other items and you probably have neglected to increase the insurance on your household and personal effects. These "little things" add up to a surprisingly big total when an accurate inventory is made.

The remedy is for you to review your present coverage, the amount of insurance you carry on your dwelling and the amount of insurance you carry on your household and personal effects. Don't be caught half-insured in the event that disaster strikes you.

We would be pleased for you to consult us to see if the amount of insurance you are now carrying is in line with present day values.

Revenue Service to Begin Compliance Survey at Beach

U.S. Internal Revenue Service will begin a "compliance survey" of many Virginia Beach business firms within the next few days, to determine if taxpayers are aware of and complying with Federal Tax Laws requiring the filing of tax returns.

Revenue Officers will conduct the survey which is expected to take about a month to complete, according to District Director C. W. Glotzbach. The Revenue Officers will check on filing of business Income Tax, Employer's Social Security, Withholding Tax and Excise Tax returns.

District Director C. W. Glotzbach emphasized the survey is not designed to audit returns, but only to ascertain the awareness and extent of compliance with the tax return filing requirements of the Internal Revenue Laws. "Compliance surveys" are required by the Internal Revenue Code, Mr. Glotzbach said, and are a continuous part of the regular tax enforcement program in keeping with the high standards of fairness the Service maintains in its dealing with taxpayers.

The Service, he said, recognizes that most of the delinquents which will be brought to light will be the result of honest misunderstandings or oversight. The rare instances of flagrant abuse which may be discovered will, however, be dealt with according to law, he said.

Pony League to Sponsor Dance

On Monday, July 18th, 1960, the Lynnhaven Pony League will sponsor a Teen-Age Dance for those thirteen through sixteen years of age from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall on Larkin Road, Virginia Beach.

Donations of sixty cents will be taken at the door. Music for the dancing will be furnished by the well known Four C's.

The dance will be chaperoned by parents of the Pony League ball players. Door prizes will be given and refreshments may be purchased.

Mrs. William DuBosky heads a committee planning the dance and parents interested in helping may contact her.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Berkeley and daughter, Mary, will return this weekend to their home on 53rd St., after spending a month in California and visiting Mr. Berkeley's brother-in-law and sister, the Rev. and Mrs. Fordyce Eastburn in San Francisco.

Vacation With a Difference At Leadership Camp

A vacation—with a difference—is upcoming for around 175 young men and women at Virginia's annual state leadership camp, August 25-28 at 4-H Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach.

Officials of the VPI Agricultural Extension Service, who conduct the camp, say young men and women leaders of around 15 to 30 years of age are eligible to attend. Those interested should contact their county agricultural or home demonstration agents. Reservations will be accepted on a "first come, first served" basis.

The camp combines fun with leadership training for a nominal cost. The entire cost of the three-day adjourn at Virginia Beach will be only $13.50 per person. General assemblies with speakers and discussion groups on topics of interest to young people will highlight the training. A new discussion group this year will deal with citizenship responsibilities and will be led by Earl Shiflet, executive secretary, Virginia Assn. of Electric Cooperatives, Richmond. Other instructors will include Douglas Moore, state coordinator, Civil Defense, Richmond; Joe McAuliffe, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.; and several members of the VPI staff.

A discussion on world relationships will be led by Virginia's former International Farm Youth Exchange delegates. Classes on outdoor cooking, photography, and other subjects, will share top billing with recreation, sports, and a moonlight cruise on the Little Creek-Kiptopeke ferry.

Officers for this year's camp are: Miss Mary Ball Massey of Westmoreland, president; Bob Miller of Montgomery county, vice-president; Miss Mary Judy Swecker, Highland, secretary; and Miss Lucy Selden, Hanover, historian.

Registration will be from 2 to 5 p.m., August 25, and the camp will adjourn after the noon meal Sunday, August 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Robertson and Diana Kay and Bruce, Jr., from Hialeah, Fla., arrived Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. Guy Robertson in the Mayflower Apartments.

Vacation With a Difference At Leadership Camp

A vacation—with a difference—is upcoming for around 175 young men and women at Virginia's annual state leadership camp, August 25-28 at 4-H Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach.

Officials of the VPI Agricultural Extension Service, who conduct the camp, say young men and women leaders of around 15 to 30 years of age are eligible to attend. Those interested should contact their county agricultural or home demonstration agents. Reservations will be accepted on a "first come, first served" basis.

The camp combines fun with leadership training for a nominal cost. The entire cost of the three-day adjourn at Virginia Beach will be only $13.50 per person. General assemblies with speakers and discussion groups on topics of interest to young people will highlight the training. A new discussion group this year will deal with citizenship responsibilities and will be led by Earl Shiflet, executive secretary, Virginia Assn. of Electric Cooperatives, Richmond. Other instructors will include Douglas Moore, state coordinator, Civil Defense, Richmond; Joe McAuliffe, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.; and several members of the VPI staff.

A discussion on world relationships will be led by Virginia's former International Farm Youth Exchange delegates. Classes on outdoor cooking, photography, and other subjects, will share top billing with recreation, sports, and a moonlight cruise on the Little Creek-Kiptopeke ferry.

Officers for this year's camp are: Miss Mary Ball Massey of Westmoreland, president; Bob Miller of Montgomery county, vice-president; Miss Mary Judy Swecker, Highland, secretary; and Miss Lucy Selden, Hanover, historian.

Registration will be from 2 to 5 p.m., August 25, and the camp will adjourn after the noon meal Sunday, August 28.

The MIXING BOWL.. IT'S Fun TO COOK

Sesame Puffs Go With Frozen Fruit Salad

Fragrant, warm Sesame Puffs with margarine give appeal to frozen fruit salad.

A frozen fruit salad is at its cool best when a hot bread is served with it. Bread and margarine are an excellent foundation for summer eating. One leading nutritionist says that menus planned around bread and spread, citrus and milk are tops nutritionally. And, says he, the idea that bread and margarine are fattening is old hat. It might have been true in the days when bread was not enriched and when margarine did not contain vitamin A. But nowadays, with their fine food values, these basic foods ought to be included in every meal, even in the diets of those seeking to lose weight.

To go with a frozen fruit salad and to make the menu a complete meal, it would be hard to find a bread more delicious than Sesame Puffs. They are easy to make and they keep well for several days. Any left over can easily be reheated in the top of a double boiler, or foil-wrapped in the oven.

Sesame Puffs are made from a yeast-leavened batter. It need not be kneaded, only stirred and perhaps beaten a bit to make it extra good. Since the batter contains milk and eggs along with margarine and enriched flour, the puffs are practically a meal in themselves. To make them extra easy to mix, the recipe calls for dry milk. This means there is no bothersome scalding of milk and that extra pan to wash. If any of the men in the family belong to the "no salad for me" brigade, these cloud-light hot little rolls may help them change their minds.

SESAME PUFFS (about 30 2 1/2-inch puffs)

- | | |
|----------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 1/4 cup warm water | 3 3/4 cups sifted flour |
| 1 package yeast | 4 tablespoons dry milk solids |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 1/2 cup melted margarine |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 2 eggs |
| | 1/2 cup sesame seeds |

Measure warm water (100° F.) into 3-quart bowl, or into large bowl of electric mixer. Sprinkle yeast over water and let stand 5 minutes. Add sugar, salt, 2 cups flour and dry milk solids. Mix smooth. Stir in melted and cooled margarine. Add eggs and beat until smooth and shiny. Add remaining flour and mix well. (Batter should look glossy.) Cover and set in warm place to rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Stir down and drop by tablespoonfuls into well-margined muffin pans. Fill each muffin cup half full. Sprinkle a teaspoon of sesame seed over batter in each cup. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) 20 to 25 minutes, until golden brown. Remove from pans at once. Serve warm or cold with margarine.

Frozen Fruit Salad

Drain contents of the following:

- 1 No. 2 can pineapple (cut in small pieces)
- 1 No. 24 can white cherries (pit them)
- 1 No. 24 can peeled apricots (cut in pieces)
- 1 No. 24 can Bartlett pears (cut in pieces)

While fruit is draining, whip 1 pt. heavy cream, into this fold 1 cup mayonnaise then gently fold in well drained fruit.

Spoon mixture into individual molds or in the fruit cans and freeze.

If you freeze in the fruit cans you can slice and serve as desired crisp lettuce. Yields about 16 servings, according to size.

Here is another recipe for Frozen Fruit Salad, called:

- Heavenly Frozen Fruit
- 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
 - 2 tablespoons fresh, frozen or canned lemon juice
 - 1 3-oz. package soft cream cheese
 - 1 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 - 1 cup chopped nuts
 - 1 cup quartered marachinos cherries
 - 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple (drained)
 - 1 No. 24 can fruit cocktail

(drained)
Sprinkle gelatin over lemon juice in measuring cup to soften. Stir over hot water until dissolved. Add to cream cheese that has been combined with mayonnaise, salt and sugar. Fold in fruits that have been well drained.
Now fold whipped cream into fruit mixture. Spoon into individual molds or ice trays and freeze. Serve on crisp lettuce.
You may add 1 cup tiny marshmallows to this recipe if you desire. Makes it mighty good.

WHEAT QUOTA VOTE

Secretary Benson has proclaimed quotas and set July 21 as the referendum date for voting on 1961 wheat marketing quotas.

Eligible voters are those with over 15 acres allotment. This group includes 16 growers in Princess Anne County. Quotas will be in effect for 1961 if more than 50% of the votes are for them. If more than 50% of the votes are against quotas, there will be none for the '61 crop, and no penalties for overproduction. However, allotments will remain in effect for those who wish price support, which will be at 50% of parity.

If quotas are passed, there will again be penalties for planting over 15 acres or the farm allotment, and price support will be at the full level available, probably 75% of parity.

Last year only 2 of those eligible voted in the referendum. Let's try to make it a much larger turnout this year. Now is the time to show whether you like the present program or not.

MAKE DAIRYING PAY

THE RECORD WAY

Have you ever thought that you shouldn't join your DHIA because your herd is not very large? Today you can take advantage of production record keeping for your herd at reduced rates through the owner-sampler or weigh-a-day-a-month program.

Owner-sampler is a system in which you weigh the milk from each cow in your herd one day each month and take a sample of milk for butterfat testing. The local DHIA supervisor will pick up the milk samples and your sheet with milk weights on it and will calculate each cow's record much the same as DHIA. You also get grain feeding recommendations with this program the same as with DHIA. While these records are not considered "official" and cannot be used in a bull proving or in dairy cattle sales, they do give you the information you need to feed, cull and select replacements. Owner-sampler costs roughly 60% as much as DHIA.

Weigh-a-day-a-month is very much like owner-sampler except that no milk samples are taken and so there are no butterfat tests available on the individual cows. Weigh-a-day costs about 20% as much as DHIA.

The smaller the herd, the greater the need for high production per cow. You can enroll your herd in DHIA, Owner-Sampler or Weigh-a-Day and start to make dairying pay the record way.

Stop by the office the next time you're in town and let's talk about the program that suits you best and how you can enroll.

John Sienrukos Hurls 2nd No-Hit Game in Pony Loop

June 30th, 1960—For the second time in a row John Sienrukos pitched a no-hit ball game against the Chiefs. In the pony loop he struck out 13 and walked four. The first two innings were scoreless but Robert Hogue led off the bottom of the third for the Ruritans as the first hit of the game. Everett Root walked; Hogue stole third and a successful bunt by Art Halstead scored him for the first run. He was followed in by Horton and Halstead to give the Ruritans a lead they maintained. In defeat Sam Tillet gave up three hits to Robert Hogue. Everett Horton and John Sienrukos struck out two and walked seven. Due to a severe thunderstorm the game was called after four and a half innings. The storm cancelled the scheduled game between the Eagles and Thalia.

July 7th—For four innings the Ruritans and Eagles had a close, exciting game going. The first two innings were scoreless. In the third Hogue and Horton filed out. Art Halstead walked as did Sienrukos. Halstead succeeded in stealing to third and make a successful steal home for the first run of the game. The Eagles tied up the score in the bottom of the third on a walk to Phillips and a single by Billy DuBoisy. Lennie Ransdell led off the bottom of the fourth for the Eagles and reached first on a walk. With two out Johnny Spruill hit a triple to score Ransdell and give the Eagles a 2 to 1 lead. The Ruritans came back with a roar in the top of the fifth to score three runs and leave no doubt as to the final outcome. Robert Hogue led off with a walk; Everett Horton filed to center; Art Halstead forced Hogue at second; John Sienrukos and Billy Grunstead both singled to load the bases. A walk to Don Russell brought the tying run in and a single by Gene McGuire brought in the next two runs. The Eagles scoring for the night was over but the Ruritans picked up one run in the sixth and four in the seventh. Johnny Spruill collected two of the three hits given up by John Sienrukos; Billy DuBoisy the third. Sienrukos struck out ten and walked two for the Ruritans victory. Bobby Harrington and Lennie Ransdell for the losers gave up 8 hits, 10 walks and hit one. Both teams had four errors.

On the same night the Chiefs walloped Thalia for 13 runs on 10 hits. Thalia picked up four runs on eight hits. Whit Martin and Mike Henry pitched for Thalia and Robert Kelton pitched the win. At a recent meeting of managers an all-star team was selected to participate in tournament play starting July 11th. Seaside Park Attendance Rises With Mercury

If the steaming sidewalks of the Tidewater metropolitan areas look deserted these days, it's because the populace is in the midst of a mass migration 20 miles east to Virginia Beach, home of Seaside Park where attendance has risen to its highest point of the season.

You will find lots of friends and neighbors parked under the gay striped awnings of the new outdoor picnic area along the boardwalk, cooled by the breezes blowing in off the Atlantic and watching the bathers sporting themselves in the surf.

The Ortons, an Indian knife-throwing and sharpshooting act featuring an authentic American red man and his daughter, are a popular attraction on the Outdoor Stage this week. Old favorites here (this is their third season), they perform twice daily, 2:30 and 9:30 p.m., through Sunday, July 17. The show, like all the other circus acts exhibiting at the Park during the season, is free.

Seaside Park's ballroom is also a popular spot for the rock 'n' roll fraternity, with well-known bands rotating on the stand for nightly dancing, and a jam session Saturdays and Sundays from 2 to 6 p.m., and a juke box at other times. The ballroom dancing is free, and so is admission to Seaside Park.

Tex is superintendent of the Youth Division of the Church.

Three junior highs from the Bayside church were in attendance at the Norfolk District Christian Adventure Camp held at Poochontas State Park near Richmond, last week, were: Paige Colemda, Darlene McTaggart and Janie Puckett.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Cook and family vacationed at Fairy Stone State Park last week.

Pam Cuthrell of Thoroughgood is attending Girls State this week in Blacksburg, Va.

Mrs. J. H. Prentiss of Baylake Pines is a patient in De Paul Hospital where she underwent surgery Friday.

R. E. Carr of Thoroughgood Dr. continues to convalesce at his home.

SWEET POTATO PRODUCERS TO MEET

All sweet potato producers of Princess Anne County are invited to attend a very important meeting at Princess Anne Courthouse, Friday, July 15, at 8:00 p.m.

For some time, the sweet potato growers of Princess Anne County have been considering organizing a marketing association, in order to be able to market a more uniform supply and quality of sweet potatoes to the consuming public. At the last meeting of this group of farmers, the planning committee was authorized to draw up a tentative plan of operation and present it to the county growers.

On July 15, this plan of operation will be presented to the growers. If the group votes in favor of this plan of operation, a proposed charter will be read and adopted, and officers will be elected.

Dr. Homer Freestone, Chief of the fruit and vegetable marketing division, USDA, Mr. Charles Jones, of the Division of Markets of the State Dept. of Agriculture, and Mr. Vernon Watts, the Extension Horticulturist, will be assisting with the meeting.

DABNEY, VETTER TOP SPEAKERS FOR RURAL AFFAIRS INSTITUTE
Virgilus Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times Dispatch, and Charles T. Vetter, Jr., lecturer for the professional training staff of the U.S. Information Agency, will be the top evening speakers for this year's Institute of Rural Affairs at VPI, July 26-28.

Dabney, well-known throughout the nation as a lecturer and author, will speak Wednesday evening, July 27. Vetter, who since 1956 has been responsible for training in international communications for the Agency, will speak Thursday evening, July 28.

Farmers, homemakers, and professional agricultural workers from throughout Virginia annually attend the Institute, which offers addresses by top men in many fields, plus departmental activities and recreation.

The Agricultural Conference Board of Virginia and the Virginia Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs will hold pre-institute sessions Tuesday, July 26. The first general institute session will be Tuesday evening.

This year, as in years past, morning programs will feature three separate sections. Wednesday morning at one section, speakers will be Dr. and Mrs. Harry Overstreet, authors and psychologists, Falls Church, and Mrs. Martha Rowan, YVCA program coordinator, Hanover.

At another Wednesday morning session, Dr. Karl Brandt, Washington, D.C., member of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, will speak. At the third section, tailored especially for youth and youth leaders, International Farm Youth Exchange program delegates and exchanges from other countries will appear.

Departmental programs on agricultural economics, forage handling, grain handling, ornamental horticulture, poultry, and soil and water conservation are planned for Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday evening features, in addition to Dabney's address at 8:00 will include a talent show by 4-H Club members, and social activities.

Dr. and Mrs. Overstreet will appear again Thursday morning at the same session with Mrs. Jean Ogden of Ivy Depot.

The problem of and regulations governing chemical residues in food will be given a thorough airing at another section by Richard E. Williams, director of the Baltimore district, Food and Drug Administration, and by representatives of industry, agriculture, and the State Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, professor of education, New York University, will appear at the other Thursday morning session.

Departmental programs on Agricultural economics, forage handling, food and nutrition, forestry, horticulture, plant pathology and physiology, are planned for Thursday afternoon.

Presentation of two certificates of merit to individuals judged to have made outstanding contributions to agriculture in Virginia will follow Vetter's address Thursday evening.

The Institute is sponsored by the VPI Agricultural Extension Service.

RATIO FEEDING DAIRY CATTLE NO LONGER ADEQUATE

Ratio feeding — feeding dairy cows one pound of grain for every three or four pounds of milk produced — is passe.

Ratio feeding was rule of thumb for many years, but like most such rules it has never been accurate and has been consistently wasteful. It invariably underfeeds the high producers or overfeeds the low producers because any one ratio is not suitable for all the cows in the herd.

To illustrate the point, let's study the nutritional needs of an average Holstein cow producing milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat.

When plenty of good forage is provided, it will supply the cow with enough energy to produce 20 pounds of milk per day with no grain feeding. If poor quality forage is fed, a cow eats only enough nutrients to produce 6 pounds of milk per day with no grain feeding.

A cow producing 40 pounds of milk per day needs only 9 pounds of grain with good quality forage. But if that cow gets only poor forage, she will need 15 pounds of grain per day to support her production.

At the 70-pound-per-day level of milk production, 22 pounds of grain is plenty with good forage. With poor forage, the cow will need 27 pounds of grain daily.

How does a dairyman know what ratio to use for each cow? This is where DHIA or Owner-Sampler program of production testing really pays. Records kept and interpreted in these programs take the guesswork out of grain feeding. Any dairyman can join.

WATCH YOUR FEED SUPPLY WINTER'S COMING AGAIN!

Borrow the philosophy of the industrious ant — and plan the winter feed supply of your cattle now. Planning the feed supply is a perpetual job which must be pursued 12 months of the year, and also 12 months ahead of the time the feed will be needed.

In Virginia, cattlemen should have at least 12 tons of hay, or 5 tons of silage, put up for each mature beef cow he plans to winter. Remember to always have a reserve on hand to take care of emergencies. Calves will need 8 of a ton of hay or about 2 tons of silage. Yearling cattle will need about 50 per cent more.

It's a good idea to set aside the poorest quality feed for the cow herd, and reserve the best quality for the young stock. A beef cow can use the poorest forms of roughage if she must, while the smaller cattle can't grow and develop properly on low quality feed. If you keep steers, reserve some better quality feed for them.

Keep an eye on pasture this summer and move the cattle as grass gets short. If you see you are going to be short of grass before summer is over, plan to cre-feed calves to keep quality up. Culling cows early will help save pasture.

If you are grazing yearling steers and your grass runs short, take action immediately. Don't let them stay out and exercise on the ground. If you can find a sale for your cattle, sell them early. Let the pasture rest for a while before the new replacement cattle go on.

If you feed your own cattle, you can run them into dry lot when grass gets short, and start them on full feed. A bad choice is to let them stay on an over-grazed pasture and lose quality every day. You can squeeze a few more dollars from the beef business if the cattle are well fed at all times.

SOIL TEST A VALUABLE TOOL

A soil test can be a valuable tool in determining the amount of lime needed. Lime and fertilizer go together in producing a profitable crop. The important thing is to use the right amount of lime for the particular situation.

In the soil testing laboratory a pH test is made. This test gives the acidity of the soil. A calcium and magnesium test also is run. These two plant nutrients are important in crop production. Calcium and magnesium are closely related to the lime need. The two kinds of lime used in Virginia are calcite and dolomite. The calcite lime contains a high percentage of calcium carbonate while the dolomite limestone contains both calcium carbonate and magnesium carbonate.

Recent research work conducted by the agronomy department at VPI shows that soils respond differently to lime. This makes it important to know the soil on which lime is to be applied. The amount and kind of clay in the soil determines the amount of lime needed for that soil. For example, it takes about twice the amount of lime to raise the pH a certain amount on a heavy clay soil as it does on a sandy soil. The lime will leach out of the sandy soil faster. This means that smaller amounts must be applied oftener than on the clay soil.

Different crops require different pH levels for best production. As an example, a higher pH is required for alfalfa than for white potatoes.

Farmers are advised to spend their money wisely for lime. Have a soil test made to determine the pH level of your field. Then with knowledge of the soil, the past treatment, and the crop to be grown, the right amount of lime can be used. Using the right amount of lime can increase growth and improve the quality of your crop. Soil boxes and record sheets can be obtained from my office.

Proud of Catch

Mrs. Christopher Reich and son, Chris, of 14 Hunt Club Road happily show their catch of a 36 lb. cobia and a 22 lb. cobia made when deep sea fishing at Cape Charles, Virginia, while vacationing at the Martha Washington Hotel in Virginia Beach.

Beach Visitor from Maryland Likes Virginia Deep Sea Fishing

Fishing was good Wednesday, July 13, especially for Mrs. Christopher Reich of 14 Hunt Club Rd. in Elkridge, Md.

Mrs. Reich caught a 36 lb. cobia while deep sea fishing off the Sunny V off Cape Charles. She is planning to fillet the cobia and should have fish fillet for a long time to come.

Her son, Chris, who attends Waterloo Junior High School in Howard County in Md. caught a 22 lb. cobia which means more fish fillet for the Reichs. It took Chris more than one hour to land his cobia. All Mr. Reich caught were sharks—four of them which he promptly threw back into the water.

For twenty-three years Mrs. Reich has wanted to come to Virginia Beach and she is happy she made it. Already she is making plans to return.

10th Battalion Gets New CO

In a change of command ceremony held in front of the 10th Transportation Battalion Headquarters, Lt. Col. Jack W. Tooley, departing Battalion CO, passed the guidon to the new 10th Transportation Battalion Commanding Officer, Maj. William H. Rutledge.

All 10th Transportation Battalion unit commanders and their first sergeants attended the ceremony. Major Rutledge was previously the Executive Officer of the battalion and this is his second tour of duty here.

Prior to coming to Fort Story, he served in the U.S. subport branch, Liverpool, England. Serving in the Army for 18 years, with 15 years of active duty Major Rutledge received his commission at the Transportation Corps Officer Candidate School in 1943. He also attended the Associated Transportation Officer's course at Fort Eustis, Virginia.

Major Rutledge comes from Nashville, Tenn. and is a bachelor. Among his decorations are the American Pacific and European service ribbons, Occupation Medal (Germany), Korean Support Medal, Ten Years Service ribbon, United Nations Ribbon and WW-II Victory Ribbon.

Major Rutledge will command the 10th until Lt. Col. William Henderson arrives from Korea to assume command.

Williamsburg Business Activity Shows Increase

Business activity in Williamsburg during the first half of 1960 was up 5.7 per cent over the first six months of 1959, according to figures just released by the College of William and Mary's Bureau of Business Research.

The average index for the first half of 1960 showed a cumulative increase of approximately 16 per cent over the same period in the index base year, 1956, but Professor Alvin B. King, director of the Bureau of Business Research at William and Mary, was quick to point out that this represented a growth rate of only about 4 per cent per year since 1956—about the same as the U.S. national average.

Professor King noted that business activity in Williamsburg in the first six months of this year has shown good gains in every month over the same period in 1959, except for the month of March, which was approximately 5 per cent behind March of the base period. In two of the four years of the index, King said, March has fallen behind March of the base year, with exceptionally bad weather being an important factor in March, 1960's poor showing.

June, 1960 business activity in Williamsburg was up about 5 per cent over June, 1959, and increased 16.77 per cent over June in the base year, 1956. Two-thirds of the firms reporting to the index registered increases over their volumes in 1959, while most component firms in the index experienced increases in their June, 1960 volumes over the same month last year. The year-to-year increases, however, were modest for most organizations, and no significant differences between tourist and non-tourist components were noted.

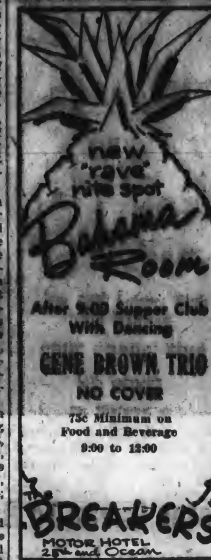

The index figures for the month of June are: June, 1956, 100.00; June, 1957, 132.26; June, 1958, 107.44; June, 1959, 110.04; and June, 1960, 116.77. First six-month figures since 1956 are: 1956, 100.00; 1957, 116.23; 1958, 104.60; 1959, 110.04; and 1960, 116.40.

The information for the revised Williamsburg Business Index is based on a survey of bank demand deposits; bus ticket, department store, food store, hardware and building supply, restaurant, and variety store sales; total postal receipts, and monthly sales of admission tickets to the seven major exhibit buildings of Colonial Williamsburg, Inc.

Seventeen firms contribute data to the index, which is compiled monthly by the Bureau of Business under the direction of Professor King.

ARE Summer Session Set to Open on July 25

The first 2-week session of the annual summer school conducted by the Association for Research & Enlightenment will open at the organization's Virginia Beach headquarters on Monday, July 25.
 A notable feature of the 1960 summer school will be a series of seminars on various aspects of spiritual healing by Dr. Alfred W. Price, D.D., rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Philadelphia. For over ten years, Dr. Price has been one of the country's outstanding exponents of this phase of the Christian ministry.
 Dr. Price's seminars are scheduled for 11:15 a.m. to 12:15, Monday, July 25 through Friday, July 29. During the same week he will conduct healing services each afternoon as the guest of Galilee Episcopal Church in Virginia Beach.
 The daily program of morning and evening classes at the summer school will concern subjects touching on the organization's research in the fields of parapsychology, psychology and the physical sciences as they relate to the religion in modern times. Point of departure for such research is the 40-year file of psychic discourses by the late Edgar Cayce, founder of the organization in 1931.

The Sixth Annual Lotus Festival

Friday will mark the opening of the sixth annual Lotus Festival here and in Princess Anne County. The annual event is sponsored by the Cape Henry Woman's Club and continues to grow in popularity and magnitude year after year. As has been the case in the past these energetic ladies have put in much time and effort in preparing for the Lotus Festival and the upcoming celebration bids fair to top all previous events in entertainment and pure pleasure.

One of the highlights of the week-long festival is the selection and crowning of the Lotus Queen. This phase of the program is cloaked in secrecy until the very moment. This event is scheduled for the Convention Center Saturday night. The annual Lotus Ball is to follow.

While there will be a band concert and a parade—the parade is set for this Saturday—not to be overlooked is the American

Lotus Garden located in Princess Anne County near Virginia Beach. This is the garden that gives the festival its name. Boat rides through the water garden are on the program and lunch is to be served by the ladies of the nearby Tabernacle Methodist Church.

According to Mrs. Cecil H. Reed, who was the first chairman of the Lotus Festival in 1955, and who has done considerable research on the American Lotus flower the water garden of yellow lotus in Princess Anne County is the largest substantial growth of the native American lotus to be found anywhere.

The annual Lotus Festival has proven a popular event on the summer calendar of Virginia Beach's summer program. Visitors have been impressed with it and the community owes a debt of gratitude to the hard working ladies of the sponsoring Cape Henry Woman's Club.

Magazine Spotlights Virginia Beach

In the August issue of Coronet magazine currently on the newsstands, there is an article about Virginia Beach and the job that has been done here in restoring the sand beach. The fine publicity is also backed up with before and after pictures of the beachfront. The before picture is the condition before the Beach Erosion Board program went into action and the after picture shows the resorted beach in 1953 after sand had been pumped onto the beach.

The article speaks of the beach erosion problem at countless beaches throughout the country. The article written by Norman Carlisle is titled "The Battle To Save Our Runaway Beaches." It states the sea has been swallowing them at the alarming rate of 6,000 acres a year. But now science is beginning to turn the tide.

About Virginia Beach specifically the Coronet article states: "Farther up the Atlantic coast is the most striking example of the proper care and feeding of a beach."

A few years ago, Virginia Beach, Virginia, was a scene of desolation—its three miles of beach gone, its building program threatened, and its boardwalk a mere bridge with the sea on both sides. Today all that is a part of the past. After a major dredging operation got the lost sand back in place, a permanent pumping station and a small dredge have kept more coming through pipes almost a mile and a half long.

The article gives Virginia Beach some valuable publicity and certainly spotlights for the nation the work that has been carried on here in restoring and keeping our sand beach. It is another tribute to the fine program conducted by the Beach Erosion Board and the fact that pictures speak louder than words means that the Coronet article should go a long way to dispell any belief that Virginia Beach is without a good, sand beach.

We recommend the article for good reading and to convince any non-believers.

I'M SERIOUS!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
Ask for the church...
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plus to be a church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verse
Sunday	Mark	4	26-28
Monday	Matthew	25	1-13
Tuesday	John	8	1-14
Wednesday	Exodus	6	1-4
Thursday	Peter's	22	1-9
Friday	Isaiah	102	1-9
Saturday	Matthew	18	1-9

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind. There's something wrong in America... and I'm the chap who is getting hurt! Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life. But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend Church School and Church — MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs. Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village! Yes, I'm serious! Instead of talking about juvenile delinquency, we ought to do something about it. We ought to crowd our churches with children... and parents! And we ought to start Sunday!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

On the Right "Track"

Job Fisher, the local station-master, tells a story that happened last winter during one of our worst blizzards.

Seems there was a Center City salesman down at the depot waiting for the scheduled 8:02 train. Storm raging the way it was, small town, why, the poor chap pictured himself stranded for days. Suddenly a train emerged from the storm and crawled to a stop. It was the 8:02, right on time!

The happy salesman shook Job's hand and said: "Weather like this and your 8:02 is right on time!" "Hate to disillusion you, son," said Job, "but this is yesterday's 8:02."

From where I sit... things aren't always what they first appear to be. For example, there's the fellow whose first impression is that onlyiced tea is real refreshment, but not beer, which I prefer. Sure he's entitled to his opinion, but he's got to respect mine too. That's tolerance and that's something we've got to "train" ourselves to have more of.

American Little League News

By Lil Entsminger

The selection of the American Little League All Stars were made Friday night, July 15, 1960, by the managers of the four league teams and announced by the President of the League.

Managers Bill Renn of the Cubs, Dr. Fitzhugh Mayo of the Tigers, George Hill of the Sports and Irvy Price of the Rotarians each submitted their selection of 14 players to make up the All Star team. Ten boys received unanimous votes leaving seven boys to practice with the selectors for a week before the final four were selected. Tournament rules were followed and all boys selected were of League age 12 except for two eleven year olds. Those selected are as follows:

Name	League	Age	Team
John Potts	12	Cubs
Ragan Puley	12	Cubs
Arch McDowell	12	Cubs
Will Pugh	12	Cubs
Doug Niel	12	Cubs
Guy Standing	12	Cubs
Mike Keville	12	Tigers
Chip McQuilkin	11	Tigers
Bill Mayo	11	Tigers
Tom Sanders	12	Rotarians
Steve Mandy	12	Rotarians
Lee Entsminger	12	Rotarians
Mike Hallock	12	Sports
Bill Lang	12	Sports

The first All Star game will be with the U.S. Amphibious Base (National) at the Amphibious base field, Saturday night, July 23rd at 7:30 p.m. Indications are that the American Little League fans and boosters will fill the stands for this first game of the tournament.

Bill Renn will manage the American Little League All Star team and will be ably assisted by Dr. Fitzhugh Mayo.

On July 12, 1960, the Rotarians and the Sports squared off at the Virginia Beach High School field and by virtue of the Rotarians keeping the base-on balls to a total of 13, they were able to outlast the Sports to the tune of 15 to 7. Sport pitchers Brock Childress, Herb Potter, Tom Blouin and Greg Cayce held the Rotarians to 9 hits while Bob Gregory and Cuth Dobbs allowed the Sports only 3 hits.

One of the finest and most tense-packed game of the season took place between the Tigers and the Cubs in the second game of the night. Chip McQuilkin, Tiger pitcher, bottled up the Cubs for five innings allowing only three hits to keep his team ahead 3 to 0. The Cubs came to bat in the last of the 6th with a do-or-die determination. Will Pugh led off with a walk and came home on John Potts double to score their first run. Ragan Puley got on base on an error and Arch McDowell blasted a double to send in his two teammates to tie the score 3 to 3. Guy Standing ended the game when his two batters scored Arch McDowell for the winning run. Chip McQuilkin, Tiger pitcher, faced 24 batters striking out 6, gave up 6 hits and three walks to be credited with the loss. Will Pugh, Cub pitcher, faced 27 batters giving up 6 hits and 3 free bases while striking out 9 batters to get credit for the win.

In the first game on July 15, 1960, the Sports and the Cubs showed the results of fine coaching by managers George Hill (Sports) and Bill Renn (Cubs). The game going to the Cubs 8 to 1 on the pitching of John Potts. Potts faced 28 batters giving up 3 walks and striking out 12. Buddy Conrad, Sports catcher and one of the best in the league, lined out a clean double and scored his teams only run on a timely hit by Bill Lang.

In the second game, the Tigers overcame a 8-run deficit to beat out the Rotarians 13 to 12. Again it was the story of the Rotarians allowing too many base-on-balls, plus some timely hitting to provide their defeat. Cuth Dobbs, Lee Entsminger and Bob Gregory, Rotarian pitchers allowed 13 walks and gave up 10 hits to 35 batters. Tom Sanders, Rotarian catcher, collected a double and his fifth home run of the season. Steve Mundy came through with two doubles and Deen Entsminger connected with a stand-up double in the 4th to provide the betting guns for the Rotarians. Tim Wood committed a "babe-ripper" — he poked his first home of the season only to have it credited as a two-bagger when in his excitement he jumped over second base and when the ball was returned to the field the base was tagged and he was called out.

Boosting Your Insurance

Here is a sound Rule-of-Thumb that every property owner can follow: If your fire insurance has been in effect for a number of years without review or revision, it's an odds on bet that you are seriously under-insured.

Since 1945, the statistics show, the cost of home building has just about doubled so if your home was insured in 1945 and you have not increased the amount of insurance that you carried as of that date, you can imagine what could happen to your pocketbook if fire strikes.

What is true of your home itself is true of practically everything inside it. For instance, the cost of household furniture, clothing, appliances—almost every item found in the home—has more than doubled since 1940. Then too you have added new furniture, new appliances, T.V. sets, sewing machines, and many other items and you probably have neglected to increase the insurance on your household and personal effects. These "little things" add up to a surprisingly big total when an accurate inventory is made.

The remedy is for you to review your present coverage, the amount of insurance you carry on your dwelling and the amount of insurance you carry on your household and personal effects. Don't be caught half-insured in the event that disaster strikes you.

We would be pleased for you to consult us to see if the amount of insurance you are now carrying is in line with present day values.

Public Invited to Marine Landing

One thousand seasoned marines will hit the beaches of Camp Pendleton, Va., Thursday, July 20. The public is invited to attend and bring cameras.

The exercise, code-name MARLEX (Marine Landing Exercise), begins at 8:00 a.m. (EST).

Screaming jet planes will swoop in on low runs to start the amphibious show.

Underwater Demolition Unit Two, based at Little Creek, will conduct reconnaissance and demolition demonstrations. The explosions will add realism to the show. Frogmen will be cast from a speeding boat, swim to the beach, simulate placing explosives in obstructions and be retrieved by boat.

Swooping Navy, Marine and Air Force planes will destroy obstructions and pin down enemy troops and provide close support for the assault troops landing on the beach.

Helicopter-borne troops will be lifted from ships at sea, into advance areas to cut the enemy's supply lines to his beach positions.

Destroyers, anchored off shore, will simulate Naval gunfire support, destroying pill boxes on the dune line clearly visible from the stands. Amphibious ships will send in assault landing craft to bring troops of the First Battalion, Second Marines, to the beach. The landing craft will also bring tanks, trucks and weapons that will enable the troops to take and hold the beachhead.

MARLEX is an annual landing exercise to demonstrate to the NROTC midshipmen the execution of the operation which they have studied in classroom. Throughout the landing a narrator will explain in detail the actions being conducted in carrying out the operation. Approximately 550 NROTC midshipmen will observe the exercise.

Vice Adm. George C. Towner, Commander of the Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force, is in overall charge of summer training program. Rear Adm. George H. Valen, Commander Amphibious Training Command, U.S. Atlantic Fleet, is directing midshipmen training.

Capt. G. Pittard, Commander Amphibious Squadron Four, is in charge of the MARLEX attack group. Lt. Col. S. M. McLeod, USMC, Commanding Officer of the First Battalion, Second Marines, commands the MARLEX Landing Group.

Thursday, July 20, a combined midshipmen-marine landing will be held at Camp Pendleton in order that the trainees will be able to get the feel of an actual assault.

Richard L. Price Named to Head Oriental Band

Richard L. Price of Hampton, Virginia, has been elected President of the International Association of Shrine Oriental Bands, an organization that encompasses all Shrine Oriental Band Units in the United States, Canada and Mexico. His election and installation came Wednesday at the Imperial Council Session in Denver, Colorado.

Price, a native of Indiana, was one of the principal organizers of Khedive Shrine's Oriental Band in 1932, and served as its first President. Three years later, he succeeded in organizing the Mid-Atlantic Association of Shrine Oriental Bands and became its first president. Today, it is one of the largest groups in the International Association.

From his work in the Mid-Atlantic Organization, Price became active in the work of the International Association. In 1956, he was elected Sergeant-At-Arms and, during the 1958 Shrine Imperial Council Session in Atlantic City, he served as General Chairman of all Oriental Band activities.

Professionally, Price holds the civilian position of Budget Officer for Tactical Air Command Headquarters at Langley Air Force Base in Virginia.

In addition to being a member of Khedive Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S. in Norfolk, he is a member of St. Tamary Lodge No. 3, A.F. & A.M. in Hampton; Kecoughtan Royal Arch Chapter, Mariners Forest No. 147, Tall Cedars of Lebanon; and The Hampton Commandery of Newport News.

He is married to the former Nellie Smith of Hillsville, Virginia. With their five children, they reside at 76 South Boxwood Street, Hampton.

Healing Services Slated July 25-29 At Galilee Church

The Rev. Alfred W. Price, Episcopal clergyman whose pioneering work in behalf of his church's ministry of spiritual healing has won national acclaim, will conduct healing services at Galilee Episcopal Church in Virginia Beach, Monday, July 25 through Friday, July 29, from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m. daily.

Dr. Price, who is rector of historic St. Stephens in Philadelphia, introduced healing services there about ten years ago. The immediate success of these brought invitation to conduct healing missions for other parishes throughout the country and attracted worldwide notice.

The 6-foot, 4-inch former Marine now brings his message of faith and health to more than 200,000 persons annually. An incident from his career was dramatized by Vincent Price on the TV show Crossroads last year. In June, 1957, the Reader's Digest told the story of the clergyman's inspiring ministry in an article, "More Things Are Wrought by Prayer."

In announcing the special services at Galilee next week, Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of the church, emphasized that Christian healing is a inter-day application of one of Christianity's primary tenets—stemming from Christ's admonition to His followers to "preach the Gospel and heal the sick."

Mr. Berkeley announced the general public, as well as his congregation is invited to attend Dr. Price's services at Galilee. Each will consist of a brief lecture on the underlying principles of faith and health, followed by a service of prayer for the sick and laying-on-of-hands for those present and wishing intercession.

GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting — "at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission . . . and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby stroller.

Substantial Breakfasts Bring Up Inadequate Summer Diet

Hot weather or cold, energy is needed to start the day right and to avoid that eleven o'clock slump in efficiency that besets so many housewives and working people. In hot weather eating less than usual may become a vicious cycle, for a light supper and a restless night are often followed by an inadequate breakfast. The result is a feeling of exhaustion and no appetite by lunchtime.

Breakfast is a good point in the twenty-four hours to break the cycle for it is usually a little cooler then. It is easier to get up in time to spend enough time at the breakfast table to eat a good meal.

A cool, refreshing, basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter makes an adequate breakfast that will supply energy to keep the nerves and head steady, and help to overcome some of the worst effects of "a hot spell."

Each summer day should begin with a good breakfast. You will feel better, you will work and play better according to scientific studies at a prominent medical school if you start the day with an adequate breakfast.

A basic cereal and milk breakfast is so easy to prepare. In less time than it takes to brew a cup of coffee, fruit or fruit juice, a choice of ready-to-eat cereals—either the pre-cooked or regular types, bread for toast, butter, and milk can be assembled on the kitchen counter. Each family member can select the combination that appeals to his mood.

Strew places mats and garden flowers help to create a pleasant atmosphere for the most important meal of the day—breakfast.

If the great man shows up in a grumpy mood at breakfast time, produce a super de luxe coffee cake such as today's cinnamon sectional ring. Watch the storm clouds vanish with his first bite of the spicy mouth-melting stuff. This cake is actually a ring composed of separate cakes because, before baking, the dough is cut in rounds and each round dipped in a mixture of butter, cinnamon and sugar.

Cinnamon Coffee Yeast Cake

1 cup hot milk
1 package active dry yeast
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
About 3 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
1 cup sugar
11 teaspoons ground cinnamon

Cool milk to lukewarm. Add yeast, mix well and let stand until softened. Mix butter or margarine, sugar and salt together until fluffy. Beat in egg. Add yeast mixture.

Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Knead until smooth and elastic on a lightly floured board. Place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise until double in size, about 1 hour. Turn out onto a lightly floured board, knead lightly 1 minute. Roll dough to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut into rounds with a 2-inch biscuit cutter. Dip each in melted butter or margarine and then into the remaining sugar mixed with cinnamon. Stand up in a well-buttered ring mold 8 1/2 inches round and 2 1/2 inches deep, until ring is filled. Make cinnamon rolls with dough that is left. Cover and let rise in a warm place (80 to 85° F.) until double in size, about 1 hour. Bake in a pre-heated moderate oven (350° F.) 35-40 minutes or until done. Serve hot for breakfast, supper or tea.

pounds of ladino clover and 12 to 14 of orchard grass is a popular mixture with Princess Anne farm. Three to five pounds of red clover added to the mixture would the yield for the first year. Use top quality seed of the most suitable varieties.

5. Seed at the right time. The soil needs to be moist and enough growing season left to let the young plants get established. A general rule is to seed after the first good rain in September, and as late as October 15.

6. As nearly as possible, cover seed 1 inch in heavy soils and 1/2 inch in lighter ones. A good method for covering seed is to roll the seedbed with a corrugated roller just before and after the seeding.

SUDAN, MILLET SHOULD BE GRAZED ROTATIONALLY

Sudan grass, sudax and pearl millet — Princess Anne's favorite supplementary summer pasture crops—will do best if grazed rotationally.

Let sudan grass reach a height of 14 inches or taller before grazing. Graze down to a height of 6 to 8 inches, then remove the animals and permit recovery in the same way. However, millet can be grazed at a lower height without danger because it contains prussic acid.

The 16-inch height is the minimum for high yields of both crops. Higher yields can be expected if the grass is allowed to grow even taller before grazing. However, grazing should begin before the crop becomes too coarse and lower in digestibility—usually not over 24 to 30 inches high.

Strip grazing, or restricting the area to be grazed to that needed for 2 to 3 days grazing, will result in less waste by trampling. Sudan grass, sudax, and pearl millet are excellent for "zero grazing"—harvesting daily and hauling green chopped forage to animals. If there is more forage than is needed for grazing, harvest it for silage or hay.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

Part 2 — WORKING WOMEN

It's usually pretty inconvenient using the bus to get to work . . . and worse yet having to rely upon an unreliable, not-so-new car that has a tendency to break down at the wrong times. But what can you do? Who can afford to pay $2500 or more for a new car? Who indeed! But then, no one really has to pay that much with the Renault Dauphine you know, costs just $1675 . . . and if even that is too much for you, the Renault 4 C V is now being delivered for exactly $1322. You probably know most of the other details . . . 35-40 miles-per-gallon, monthly payments of $38.20 with a third down, heater included as standard equipment, 6-month warranty regardless of mileage, etc., etc., etc. Every day you put off buying your Dauphine costs you money, so why not put a stop to all that today and come in to Eastern Auto, 11th and Granby, Norfolk.

WOOL POOL SUMMARY

Princess Anne County sold 5,523 pounds of wool through the recently held Southeastern Virginia Wool Pool. A total of 30,194 pounds was sold from all counties in the pool.

I am very happy with the response our producers have given this pool. This response shows that farmers are looking for and participating in new ways of marketing their farm products in order to realize the greatest profit for goods sold.

Of the total 5,523 pounds, 2,596 pounds graded clean, the top grade of the pool, and sold for 57.02 cents per pound for a total sale of $149,241.

Seven hundred and sixty-four pounds graded light burry at 50.02 cents per pound for a total sale of $111.37.

One hundred and ninety-one pounds graded heavy burry at 42.02 cents per pound for a total of $80.26.

Four hundred and forty-six pounds graded stained at 45.02 cents per pound for a total sale of $200.78.

One hundred and ninety-one pounds graded coarse at 42.02 cents per pound for a total sale of $80.26.

Forty-two pounds graded rejects at 50.20 cents per pound for a total sale of $21.01.

Nineteen pounds were tags at 12.02 cents for a pound for a total sale of $2.28.

One thousand and thirty-two pounds graded short at 54.02 cents per pound for a total sale of $557.49.

To summarize, 51 producers sold 5,523 pounds of wool for a total price of $2,934.95.

VIRGINIA STATE LEADERSHIP CAMP

Young folks from 18-30 years of age of Princess Anne County should be considering attendance at the Leadership Training Camp at Camp Farrar, to be held August 25-28 this year at Virginia Beach.

Applications will be taken on a first come, first served basis as the camp will accommodate only 175 persons. The 4-H camp is located at the end of 35th Street at Virginia Beach.

General assemblies with interesting speakers and discussion groups on topics of interest to young people will again highlight the leadership training. Recreation programs have been planned including swimming in the ocean and fishing.

Those attending will have the opportunity to enjoy the fine fellowship while participating in the varied activities planned for the three-day camp.

The keynote address opening night will be given by W. J. McAuliffe, Assoc. Leader, 4-H Club and YMW Programs, Federal Extension Service. McAuliffe will also lead a discussion group on the topic "104 Ways to Help a Group Go".

Other morning discussions are planned for "Civil Duties" led by Early Shifflet, Executive Secretary, Virginia Council of Electric Cooperatives. Doug Moore, State Coordinator for Civil Defense will provide a demonstration and lead discussions on "Civil Defense Preparedness."

Plans are being made for the group to participate in an educational tour in the Norfolk-Virginia Beach area.

Registration will take place from 2 to 5 p.m. on August 25 and the camp will adjourn after the noon meal Sunday, August 28.

The entire cost of the three-day sojourn at the Virginia Beach summer resort will be only $13.50 per person.

Those interested should contact their county Extension office at an early date to insure their reservations.

The camp is conducted by the VPI Agricultural Extension Service for the benefit of young men and women leaders. The program is designed to provide leadership training for officers and members of young people's organizations so they can offer more service in their home communities.

ALL BREED HOG SALE

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3rd

Never before has the importance of good breeding stock been discussed as much as it has been lately by commercial hog producers. And, you can certainly justify the purchase of good boars and breeding gilts now. I am convinced that it is absolutely necessary that hog producers do everything possible to secure the best possible breeding stock for your farming operation.

Roy Godsey, in charge of the hog sales, says that he is very pleased with the quality of hogs that have been consigned to all of the summer sales in Virginia. He says that they will again have some open gilts in the sale which will give farmers an opportunity to buy open gilts if they so desire.

Farmers will have an excellent opportunity to choose what they want in that there will be sixty-seven bred gilts, 15 open gilts, and 43 boars offered for sale. The bred gilts are broken down as follows: 18 Hampshires, 19 Yorkshires, 15 Durocs and 4 Spotted Poland Chinas, 3 Berkshire, and 4 Black Poland Chinas. The open gilts are as follows: 7 Hampshires, 2 Yorkshires, 3 Durocs, 2 Spotted Poland Chinas, and one Black Poland China. The Durocs, 13 Hampshires, 4 Yorkshires, 13 Durocs, 7 Spotted Poland Chinas, and 4 Black Poland Chinas. I would like very much for you to attend this sale, so mark your calendar for Wednesday, August 3, 1960. I will be happy to assist you in any way possible.

PASTURE SEEDING NIGHT

Pasture seeding time will soon be here again. Increase your chances for a top pasture by doing a few, essential things well.

1. Have a soil test made. Apply lime accordingly.

2. Use enough fertilizer. If seeding a mixture of tall grass and ladino clover, use 800 to 1,000 pounds of 2-12-12 or 5-10-10 or equivalent. Disc the fertilizer and lime well into the soil. If your fertility is very low, you may want to use more phosphorus or potash, then plow. A good practice is to use half the fertilizer and lime before plowing and disc in the rest.

3. Prepare a good seedbed. Make it firm, free of clods, but not so fine that a crust will form with the first rain. Seedlings smother under a crust.

4. Select a productive mixture that meets your needs. One to two

Beach Youngsters Heading For California on Bicycles August 1

By Al Mathies, Jr.
Four Virginia Beach youngsters are scheduled to leave here August 1 on bicycles headed for the West Coast in general and Los Angeles in particular.

The boys are Oral Lambert, Melvin Hooker, George Ferrell and James Payne. All of the boys are members of Knights Boys Club here. All are high school graduates and long distance bicycling is not new to Ferrell and Payne. This pair traveled to Miami, Fla., last summer.

The trip will cost some money although the boys are planning to camp out each night. The trip is being financed by a group of Virginia Beach firms and individuals. Those helping to make the trip possible are Coaches Sporting Goods, Virginia Beach Jaycees, Virginia Beach Sports Club, Virginia Beach Lions Club, Golf Ranch Motel and B. M. Stanton.

Thirty days has been allotted by the boys for the trip. The schedule calls for stops in Lynchburg and Roanoke, Virginia; Little Rock, Ark.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Texas Panhandle.

Mrs. J. H. Payne, mother of James, feels the trip will be a wonderful experience for the boys. She says that it should be very educational.

The boys are going armed with lots of food and a letter of reference from local city and police officials. They also have been cleared through the police departments of the cities they plan to pass through.

Allied Arts Group to Present Play Here August 4 in 'Dome'

The Allied Arts Association of Virginia Beach in cooperation with the Experimental Wing of the Norfolk Little Theatre will present Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning" Thursday evening, Aug. 4th at the Virginia Beach Convention Center.

The AAA recently presented a highly successful production of "Harvey", and as a result of many requests for more live summer theatre, the directors of the AAA were able to obtain the "Lady" production that received such high critical acclaim when presented in Norfolk last month.

The three-act period piece will feature the same cast and production, and will include such well-known and experienced local talent as June Phillips, Jack O'Keefe, Danny Gunn, Joe Frieden, Robert Rowe, Stanley Darden, Charles Burgess, Joyce Lucas, Bill Phillips, Dean Burgess and Dianne Denny.

Warner Twyford, reviewing the play for the Virginian-Pilot in its initial performance had this to say of the production: "The Lady" is a brilliant, witty and thoughtful piece of writing, soaring poetry and titillating philosophy, and Director Ludwig and an earnest, talented cast brought understanding and skill to its performance."

The play is set in the great hall of the home of Hebble Tyson, mayor of Cool Clay, and follows the tribulations of a day. This includes the appearance of the girl who is to marry one of her two nephews, the harranging brothers and their perturbed mother, a soldier of fortune who demands to be baptized, a woman accused of witchcraft who does not want to be burned at the stake for her alleged crimes, and sufficient other distractions to give the author full scope for his philosophizing. Director for the production is

Scout Jamboree at Little Creek Big Success; 4000 Take Part

According to the Boy Scout planners and the officials at the U.S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, the Boy Scout Jamboree of the past weekend was a huge success. 4,000 Boy Scouts and their leaders attended the three day session, which began Friday afternoon with units checking in and being assigned their respective locations on the campsite which was located west of the Amphibious School Building. Color was presented by the P.A. BV District and the Phil-Lant Band played. Council presidents were welcomed and the events of the first day were capped by "Fireworks Display" Friday night.

One of the highlights of the Jamboree was the Council wide campfire attended by all 4,000 scouts at which time Troop 67 presented a pageant showing historical scouting from 1910-1960. All Scouts attended their respective religious services Sunday morning.

The Chesapeake District was given the award for "Outstanding Participation for the Jamboree." This was the first time that such a large Jamboree was held in Tidewater and according to all reports it is the largest one in the United States.

The Scouts came from all over Tidewater and northeastern North Carolina for the three-day Golden Jubilee Camporee. At the same time at Colorado Springs, Colo., 55,000 Scouts from all over the world are also observing the fiftieth Anniversary. Some of them are from Tidewater.

Among the visitors to the Camporee were Reps. Porter J. Hardy Jr., and Thomas N. Downing, Rear Adm. W. K. Romoser, Jubilee chairman; former Governor Calgate W. Darden, president of Tidewater Scouting; Norfolk Mayor

Fund Drive for Kempville Fire Dept. Underway

The Kempville Volunteer Fire Department will conduct its annual campaign for funds from July 28 through August 10, it has been announced.

The drive is called the "Booster Drive" and the volunteer group is seeking a penny per family per day or the equivalent of $3.65 per year.

Fire and ambulance service is afforded by the Kempville Volunteer Fire Department and the drive for funds is the only time during the year the public is called on for such support.

A brochure has been prepared for the drive and it points out that no county taxes are assessed for fire protection and that the volunteer group is responsible for lower insurance rates.

The money raised by the group is used for operating expenses, maintenance and purchase of new equipment.

Aragona Village Sewage Problem Found Less Acute After Inspection and Meeting

A sewage problem at Aragona Village and the ancient problem of stray dogs in the county occupied the time of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors on Monday.

The sewage disposal problem was brought to the attention of the Board by one of its members, Carroll G. Clough, who said, "we've had reasons and excuses for this problem for almost three years now." "I'm going to wait 90 days and no longer. Then I'm going to ask this Board to go to the State Corporation Commission. At that time I also will ask for a work stoppage on all new homes in the area."

A petition was presented to the Board with 200 names signed to it by Aragona Village residents. They complained of the sewage disposal plant and about a drain

As a result of the complaint, Board Secretary Richard J. Webbon met Tuesday morning with the resident State highway engineer. The State is reported to have agreed to replace any broken drain pipe on State property.

Wednesday morning a group consisting of Webbon, Clough and John Aragona, land developer of the Village, among others met and inspected the plant. It was reported, Samples of city water and fluid that had passed through the sewage disposal plant were obtained and the plant fluid was found to be in near perfect condition.

It was reported that the inspection and educational tour of the plant Wednesday changed the complexion of the complaint and that the condition found was not objectionable.

While Clough could not be reached for comment following the Wednesday meeting and inspection of the plant it was felt that he was satisfied the plant was in good operating order. It was also felt that correction of the drainage ditches would solve any problem or objection voiced.

The board of supervisors touched on the ancient problem of dogs running at large in the county, but took no action. Commonwealth's Atty. Robert L. Simpson read the three proposed ordinances, one would prohibit owners from allowing their dogs to run at large, another provided a $5 fine for dogs caught running at large, and a third dealt with rabid animals.

Sheriff John E. Marr told the board, "Why should a cow, a hog, a horse or a sheep? Why can't a dog owner be made to pen him up like other farm animals? A dog has no privilege of running at large on my property."

While operators of many resorts in the East and Midwest have reported summer business being off from a year ago, according to the Wall Street Journal, this is in contrast to the business outlook for Virginia Beach this summer.

The Wall Street Journal article deals chiefly with mountain and lake resorts that report business as being off from 3 per cent to as much as 30 per cent, but it also cites one Atlantic City, New Jersey, hotel as being behind its 1959 business.

According to the Journal story the hotel and linkers polled in the survey advance three principal theories, namely, unseasonably cool summer weather, nervousness engendered by business conditions and changing vacation habits.

The gloomy picture of resort business, however, does not apply to all areas and Virginia Beach certainly does not fit into this sad picture. Whatever the reason for the summer business here to hold so well may be conjecture, but this fine sand beach and wonderful weather has played a major role in keeping business here at a high level.

It is true that there are areas of business here, that may be off from last year, but by and large the summer tourist business here has been excellent among the larger motels and hotels. And, this is true of many of the smaller and older places.

One motel operator in the southern section of Virginia Beach has reported that his business is far ahead of last year and that another motel he operates on the outskirts of Virginia Beach is also far ahead of last year.

According to this operator many of the other hotel and motel operators along the beachfront have reported their business to be ahead of last year. He said that there are some spots that may be off but that is to be expected during any season.

One observation made was that Virginia Beach seems to be attracting more family-type vacationers this year than ever before.

It would indicate that while the Midwest and Eastern resort areas are experiencing difficulty this year Virginia Beach is in a very favorable position in that respect. Business here is good and prospects for the remainder of the season are reported to be excellent.

NEW TOBACCO TAX BEGINS ON MONDAY

Cigarette and cigar smokers will feel a slight increase in the cost of their habits after next Monday for that is the day the new state tax of 3 cents a pack on cigarettes goes into effect. Cigars will generate a rise about one cent per pack.

Vending machine prices on cigarettes may vary but generally they are expected to go up from 25 cents per pack to 30 cents per pack. In Virginia Beach, where there already is a city tax the vending machine price will probably rise to 35 cents per pack.

CHARLTON TOPS IN BROAD BAY SAILING

Jim Charlton was high man in the fastest class Sunday in the Broad Bay Sailing Association's regular racing program. Dr. Charlton had eight and one-half points in the two heats. He won the first race in 30:12 and came second to J. V. Powell's 32:34 in the second.

Bob Smith was the Penguin winner, finishing first in the only heat in the class. His time was 55:38. Bill Mayo was second in 58:40.

Races are scheduled again for next Sunday.

COUNTY TO CONSTRUCT NEW COURT BUILDING

The Board of Supervisors Monday voted to have plans drawn for a new Princess Anne County Court building and to ask for bids after the plans have been drawn.

The new building would be located between the Courthouse fire station and the Princess Anne County police building. Plans submitted by the county could move from the limited quarters along the fire station building.

FOR WOMEN ONLY Part 3 - HOUSEWIVES AGAIN

This two cars for the price of one business sounds as phony as a three dollar bill when you first hear about it, but with a little figuring you can see how it could work out. Assuming, of course, that your family needs two cars... and these days whose doesn't. What with traipsing all around town shopping, dropping kids off here and there, or trying to get yourself to the hairdresser's or the dentist's you're bound to start feeling that a second car would be a gift from the gods. But then there's that budget to think about. Well, here's where that two cars for the price of one deal comes in. You actually can buy two Renaults—a Dauphine and a 4CV—for less than $3,000. That's probably less than you paid for the car you now own when you bought it a few years back. Now this is a pretty bright bit of information for you to tuck away for future reference, but here's another point to remember while you're at it: At 35-40 miles per gallon (compared with the 13-15 you're now getting) you actually can drive two Renaults for less than you're now paying to run your present car. We won't belabor the point... just ask you to remember these two things... (1) you can buy two Renaults for less than $3,000, and (2) you can run them for less. Drop in at Eastern Auto tonight and bring your old car along as your down payment... Eastern Auto, 11th & Granby, Norfolk.

Your Social Security

By EARL W. TRINKLE
Field Representative

A wise man once observed that a liberal education can be obtained merely by asking questions. Questions ranging from the little boy's "what makes it run, daddy?" to Charles Kettering's "what makes grass green?", have earned for the American people the reputation of being inventive and ingenious.

There's one question the Social Security Administration would like to hear asked more often. It's "Have my earnings been properly credited to my social security account?"

Just as you make sure that you receive credit for your bank deposits and your insurance premiums, you should check your social security record at least once every three years to verify that your earnings have been properly credited to your individual social security account. Since the amount of future benefits is based on the worker's account, a wise man will check his account periodically to verify that it is correct.

Your Social Security Office will gladly furnish a handy post card form so that you can easily request a statement. (Ask for form OAR-7004).

Be wise—check your investment in Social Security now by contacting the Social Security Office at 220 W. Brambleton Ave., Norfolk 10, Virginia.

Claude Thornhill To Appear at Beach Club

Claude Thornhill, the ever-popular maestro and piano stylist, begins a week's engagement at The Cavalier Beach Club July 29th. The personable band leader and his highly skilled musicians have appeared in just about every ballroom, hotel, school, college and military installation throughout the United States and Canada, and his years of experience in the music field have firmly established him as one of the world's most outstanding musicians who knows just what the dancing public wants and plays it accordingly.

The multi-talented pianist-arranger and composer has also been a tremendous favorite with the record-buying public. Claude and his fine musical aggregation have many single releases and popular albums out on the Columbia, Decca, Trend labels, plus a host of others and through the years, the Thornhill band have enjoyed wide popularity in this field.

In reviewing a recent engagement at New Orleans' Roosevelt Hotel, the newspaper, New Orleans States, had this to say about the band:

"The occasion marks the first New Orleans engagement for Thornhill and crew and their impression on this party was a very pleasing one. This band has some of the smoothest arrangements we've heard in a long time. They can get heated with swing and Latin mambos very effectively; but the bulk of their offerings is done in a fine, muted style which seemed to go over very well with the dancing patrons."

Rudee Authority Takes First Step

The newly created Rudee Inlet Authority has held its first meeting and immediately delved into the problem of just what would be the best method in opening Rudee Inlet and keeping it open. This is a large order but the new authority seems to have set its course in earnest and the whole matter is in for a thorough investigation.

The Rudee Inlet Authority was created by the 1960 Virginia General Assembly and the law states that the Authority may exercise certain powers conferred on it by this act within the City of Virginia Beach and the county of Princess Anne.

The legislation further states that the authority is to be made up of nine members, four from the county and four appointed by the city, with a ninth member to be selected by the eight. At its first meeting, the authority named Mr. James

P. Coates as a member.

The group named Frank W. Kellam of Princess Anne as its chairman and R. Stanley Hodges of Virginia Beach as vice-chairman.

We like the way the authority set about its work. It took the first step by adjourning the initial meeting after organizing and making a personal inspection tour of the Rudee Inlet area and the adjacent territory. Before that the authority instructed one of its members to contact an area firm to secure information on ways and means to keep Rudee Inlet open.

From all appearances the Rudee Inlet Authority has gone to work and with the fine type of civic minded men that make up the Authority we can look for real progress in the long sought desire to open Rudee Inlet for boats and water transportation.

Appeal Of Beach Is Evident

A story appearing in a recent edition of the Wall Street Journal painted a somewhat gloomy picture of resort business this year among Midwest and Eastern resort areas. It said flatly that the tourist season in these areas were well off the pace of 1959.

We began to wonder about Virginia Beach business for the current season and we investigated. What we found was a pleasant surprise, for the picture here is far different from the picture depicted in the Wall Street Journal about some other resort areas.

What we found among the Oceanfront motels and hotels here was that business was extremely good. One operator doing business on the Oceanfront and also back from the beachfront reported that business at both places this year was far ahead of last year.

Another operator here, when asked how his business was this year, said: "It couldn't be any better unless we built more rooms. We are filled every night."

Although some areas may find business about even or behind a year ago here by large the summer tourist season in Virginia Beach seems to fall into the excellent class.

It would indicate that the touring public likes the ocean and particularly the sand beach here. While the Wall Street Journal article dealt primarily with mountain and lake resorts, it also cited one Atlantic City hotel as running behind a year ago.

It is good to know that Virginia Beach has a special appeal and that we are enjoying a good season this year. It speaks well for our city, its promotional efforts and our first class accommodations.

In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.—(Psalm 62:1)

Let us then daily affirm—not once but continually—that the only true and lasting happiness on earth is to be found in God and in serving Him; that in Him alone can we find the strength to bear life's inevitable sorrow and adversity; that in Him alone is the joyous peace we all seek.

Fentress Gets Expert Award

Marine Pfc. Frank L. Fentress, Jr., of Oceana, has received an "Expert Rifleman" medal as the outstanding marksman of his Marine platoon, it has been announced.

Fentress is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Fentress, of 409 Louise ave., Oceana, and he received the medal during recruit graduation exercises at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During three weeks marksmanship training at the Rifle Range, young Fentress scored 227 out of a possible 250 points with the M-1 rifle.

Before his enlistment in March, 1957, Fentress attended the University of Richmond. He is expected to be discharged from service in early September and plans to resume his studies at the Richmond school.

All information about the successful boy and girl graduate will be published in a later column. He and she will also be given the names and addresses of all contributors, so you just might get a personal letter of thanks at some future date.

Common sense, let's go all out to help assure one boy and one girl a chance in college. This is "your" scholarship, remember, and its success rests on your shoulders.

Send along your contributions and your names and addresses if you wish to be considered for help. Thanks and God bless all of you.

Dear Dan: The boy I'm dating is just how rough he is. He thinks nothing of reaching over and hitting me, and just the way he handles me is too much. I've mentioned it to him but he still keeps it up. I'm 17 and he's 19. We have a lot of fun together and I like him a lot but I'm getting to the point that I can't take his roughing up. What should I do?

—Bruised.

Dear Reader: Your boy friend may be trying to play a "he's a man" but in using you as a punching bag, he's not showing much courtesy. Tell the guy if he wants to date you, fine, but if he wants a workout, go to the nearest gym.

Dear Dan: I'm far from being a teenager but I have a teenage son and he and I argue quite a bit on one subject. Of course, it's just a friendly argument but we want you to settle it for us. My son says when he becomes 18, he could leave home and be within his legal rights. I always thought the law was 21 but he says it's been changed in our state. If it's so but I want him to be the right age when he does leave home. We'll look for your answer soon and thanks. —J.D.J.

Dear D.J.D.: The "legal age" law varies from state to state and your best bet is to check with your county official. Actually, each state has a number of laws covering the time a juvenile moves into the adult orbit. For instance, your state may have one law governing the age a juvenile may obtain an adult driver's license, another law covering a criminal complaint being brought against a juvenile of a specific age, another one for voting privileges, one for marriage and one for the question you wrote about. Ask your county attorney to give you the latest state ruling.

However, I think you'll find that even though your son may be privileged to move out of your home as an adult on his 18th birthday, he will still be responsible to you as a minor if he stays at home and receives support from you. It sounds to me that your son is looking ahead rather than having a friendly argument.

Any 1960 high school graduate who wants to start college this fall but faces a stumbling block because of finances is welcome to send along his name and address. He or she should also send along valid reasons why outside financial assistance is needed, the choice of a college, planned studies, grades in high school, and overall ambition. The name of the high school principal or class advisor is also needed.

The two successful applicants, one boy and one girl, will be chosen on the basis of financial need, worthiness and past scholastic ability.

Naturally, this "Under 21" scholarship will only be as successful as the contributions received from you teenagers and children. Parents, of course, may also contribute—some more the better.

All contributions, no matter how small, will be personally acknowledged by me in a letter to each contributor unless he or she wishes to remain anonymous. Remember, nickels and dimes are just as important as dollars.

My wife and I will screen the letters from all graduates wishing to be considered for the scholarship. In turn, the graduates whose situations seem the worst will be checked through their high schools, and principals and class advisors will be contacted.

The successful boy and girl will be notified at the earliest possible time and all funds received in "your" name will be divided equally between the two. The money will be placed in safe keeping at the college of the student's choice after the college has been selected. Your local editor will also be asked for his help.

Frankly, I don't know if this project will be successful or if it won't even get off the ground but I do know it's worth the effort. Too many potential scientists, teachers, doctors, clergymen, nurses and what have you will wind up in hum-drum jobs if the public doesn't make a little added effort to help things over.

I don't care if you can only spare a dime. Remember, your dime may help mold the doctor or scientist who will discover a cure for cancer or the teacher who will help in the education of countless thousands of boys and girls in the years ahead.

UNDER "21"

By DAN HALLIGAN

(Dan Halligan will be glad to answer questions submitted by teen-agers and children. Send them to him at Box 130, Williston, N. D. For personal replies, please include a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

Dear Teen-Agers: Quite a number of you write to me from time to time and complain about your usefulness because you are what you are—a teenager. I don't agree and here's your chance, as a teenager, to be a part of something that could have unlimited possibilities as to its good.

With your help, I would like to start two "Under 21" college scholarships, one for a boy and one for a girl. Think of the thousands of worthy high school graduates in the United States and Canada who want to start college this fall but won't be able to because they don't have the money. There's probably a boy or girl in your block or right around the corner in that situation.

Even though this proposed college scholarship project carries the banner of "Under 21", remember, it will be "your" scholarship and will be in "your" name.

Two factors will make this scholarship a success—applications from worthy high school graduates and "your" nickels, dimes and dollars.

News for Veterans

On July 14, 1960, the President signed into law a two-year extension of the World War II GI loan program which had been due to end on the 25th of this month.

Under this new law both war and Korean veterans can continue to apply for direct loans from the Veterans Administration if they live in certain designated areas where G.I. loans are not obtainable from local lending agencies. The Treasury Department is authorized to advance $150 million a year for the next two years to direct loan applications but the amount to be assigned to the Roanoke Regional Office is not known at this time. If the pattern of previous direct loan allocations of funds is followed, the Roanoke VA Loan Division hopes to take care of the 1,300 applicants now on its waiting list during the next 6 months.

The G. I. loan interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent remains unchanged. A new feature of the law is a requirement that earnest money deposits made by veterans in property developments must be placed in trust accounts to protect the veteran in case the builder becomes insolvent.

Beginning July 1, 1960 the Veterans Administration may furnish or lend hydraulic invalid lifts to veterans with non-service connected disabilities, who are receiving pensions based upon the need for regular aid and attendance. The veteran must have suffered loss of use of both lower and at least one upper extremity, so that he cannot move himself from bed to wheel chair and must be lifted bodily by an attendant.

A balloon attachment may be furnished with the invalid lift if

Vepco Net Income Shows Gain

Net income of the Virginia Electric and Power Company rose 16.7 per cent during June over the same month in 1959, Vepco president, A. H. McDowell, Jr., said today.

The company's operating revenues for June were up 9.4 per cent over the same month a year ago. Net income last month was $2,254,000 compared with $1,931,000 in June, 1959. Operating revenues were $12,576,000 compared with $11,518,000 in June, a year ago.

Vepco common stock earned $1.21 per share for the current twelve months based on $1,910,000 shares outstanding June 30, compared with $1.60 per share on a like number of shares outstanding June 30, 1959, McDowell said.

Of increase of 20,800 electric customers and 3,000 gas customers was reported over the previous year. Having attained 1's 250,000th electric customer during June of this year, the company now has slightly more than three-quarters of a million electric customers and approximately 88,300 gas customers.

The company's 1960 construction budget is $68,000. Of this amount, some $36,300,000 has been spent on new construction during the first six months of this year—more than $1,000,000 a week.

A fourth generating unit was placed into operation in May at the company's Chesterfield Power Station, near Richmond. Completed at a cost of approximately $20,000,000, the 170,000 kilowatt unit increased the station's generating capacity to 370,000 kilowatts.

Vepco recently started construction of its second major hydroelectric generating station. When completed in the spring of 1963, the $50,000,000 station will deliver an additional 200,000 kilowatts to Vepco's system. It will be located on the Roanoke River, in North Carolina, about eight miles upstream from the company's Roanoke Rapids Station, which was placed in operation in 1953.

In addition, two more generating units are under construction to supply the ever-increasing demands of Vepco customers. Construction of a new 200,000 kilowatt unit began earlier this year at the Portsmouth Power Station. When this unit is completed in 1962, the total capacity of the station will be increased to 350,000 kilowatts. At the company's Pamlico Point Power Station, near Swansboro, Virginia, a new 200,000 kilowatt generating unit is also under construction and scheduled for completion in 1962.

To help finance this year's construction program, Vepco plans to sell $25,000,000 of first mortgage bonds in September, depending on market and other conditions at the time, McDowell said.

The National Outlook

As of the first of this July all Federal "Civil Service" workers, which includes all employees of the Post Office, got an increase of pay of not less than 3 per cent. The total cost to the government, and the taxpayers, is over $700 million. It was granted as a result of both Houses of the Congress overriding a most vigorous veto by the President. To appraise the action the following points must be kept in mind.

1. Only two years ago all these employees were given a 10 per cent increase. Since then the cost of living has increased only a small fraction over 2 per cent. On this comparison, therefore, there could be no reason for this latest rise.

The Department of Labor currently is making a quite elaborate study of government wages in relation to those paid by private employers. The Congress provided the funds for this study ($500,000) and its purpose is to provide a basis for determining whether the government is paying enough. The results of this analysis will be ready in about two months. No one can be certain what the survey will show, but it is expected that we shall find that only in the higher government jobs is the pay below what is customary in private employment. This will not be corrected by the current rise because those holding these positions do not come under civil service except in a few instances.

3. Government employment does offer an opportunity to become wealthy, but it has certain aspects which are not found in the private sector of our economy. Such employees have what amounts to a guaranteed annual wage, thirty days vacation each year (this is much longer than private industry grants), substantial sick leave with pay, excellent pension system, and what in effect is an almost complete protection against being discharged. All of these have to be put on the plus side from the viewpoint of the employees, and they all cost money.

4. As a result of this increase the average pay to government workers will be above that of comparable work in private industry, and much above that of state and municipal workers. The $700 million, therefore, is far from the total cost of the action. States and municipalities will have to raise their pay scales, and private industry will be under renewed pressure for higher wages. What the total cost will amount to for the economy as a whole is not possible of determination, but it certainly will be in the billions.

5. Even without this increase there was a growing question as to the projected $4.2 billion federal surplus for this fiscal year. This was because the Congress obviously was in no mood for serious economy and had many extravagant proposals before it. With the pay increase and if one or two of these proposals is passed, there will be a deficit rather than a surplus for this fiscal year.

6. Passage of the pay increase, and overriding the President's veto, was sheer, blatant, raw politics. Only 68 in the House and 24 in the Senate voted to sustain the veto. Here was pressure politics at its worst, and it is almost frightening to see it in operation.

7. The rise definitely has inflationary implications. It will hinder our attempts to solve our international deficit. It materially lessens the prospect for income tax rate reform. It makes it increasingly difficult for us to have steady, sustainable growth.

We have heard much in recent months about fiscal responsibility. This action was a perfect example of fiscal irresponsibility.

One of our old teachers used to say, "I can lead you to knowledge, but only God can give you wisdom."

And how right he was. A string of diplomas and degrees does not make a man wise. Many of the wisest never had a formal education.

For knowledge is the accumulation of facts. But wisdom is the ability to apply a few facts - perhaps only one - to a life-situation.

We know a distinguished scholar who has written volumes on ecclesiastical architecture. And we know an elderly widow who told her grandchildren, "Churches ain't made to look at!"

And the scholar - earnest Christian that he is - humbly bows to the wisdom of the widow!

For whether it be a cathedral or chapel, the Church cannot enrich our lives until reverently we enter its portals to worship and serve God. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.

Tournament Play
Virginia Beach All-Stars 2
Naval Base All-Stars 1

The Naval Base All-Stars picked up an early one-run lead in the first inning. Both teams played scoreless ball until the sixth inning. Max Wiley threw a walk, Carl Bagby singled, and Johnny Ort got a nice hit scoring both the tying and winning runs. Then Jeff Shelton got a nice hit and Johnny Ort crossed home plate making the score 3 to 1. The Naval Base All-Stars were held scoreless in the last of the sixth inning for a final score of 3 to 1. Other nice hits for the Virginia Beach All-

Stars during this game were made by Max Wiley and Jeff Shelton.

This was a very tense ball game as both teams played good ball and fought hard to win and continue in All-Star Tournament play.

It was nice to see such a large group of Virginia Beach fans in the bleachers rooting for their boys to win, and when the boys came through the applause from these fans was something to warm the hearts of each and every player on the team.

By winning this game the Virginia Beach All-Stars continue in Tournament play, and the next game is to be played with the Little Creek Amphib. American League at the Virginia Beach High School at 7:30 a'clock p.m. on Monday night, July 28th. All baseball fans turn out and let's help our boys to win this one.

Lynnhaven Pony League News

On Monday, July 11th, the Lynnhaven Pony League All-Stars traveled to Bonnetts Park, home of the Norfolk Pony League to meet Kempsville in an opening round of tournament play. John Stansbury pitched a fine game, assisted by three hits, including a homerun by teammate, Art Halstead. However on a well executed squeeze play Kempsville managed to pull off a 5 to 4 victory. Tillet was unable to stop the heavy bats of the Norfolk Pony League on Tuesday, July 12th, and Lynnhaven went down to defeat by a score of 12 to 2.

Rain caused postponement of games on July 14th.

The League sponsored a dance on July 18th and as a result the regularly scheduled games were postponed. The dance was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended and the teen-age crowd were most appreciative of the music furnished by the Four C's. The League will again sponsor a dance on August 22nd featuring the same band.

On July 21st the Ruritans called upon the pitching services of John Crowling who has not pitched since leaving the Little League. He was equal to the occasion and gave up only two hits as the Ruritans downed Thalia 8 to 0. Everett Horton collected three hits for three times at bat; Art Halstead had 2 for 4 as did Billy Grimstead. Perdue and Garrett were the hitters for Thalia.

In the second game the Chiefs took the measure of the Eagles by a score of 7 to 3. Both teams received 4 hits but the Chiefs were able to take advantage of 11 walks given up by Lennie Ransdell and Johnny Sprull.

Schedule:
 Thursday, July 28th
 Thalia vs. Chiefs 6 p.m.; Ruritans vs. Eagles 8 p.m.
 Saturday, July 30th
 Eagles vs. Ruritans, 6 p.m.; Chiefs vs. Thalia, 8 p.m.
 Monday, August 1st
 Chiefs vs. Eagles, 8 p.m.; Thalia vs. Ruritans, 8 p.m.

A tense and hard fought game took place between the Tigers and the Sports at the Virginia Beach High School field Tuesday, July 26. The Sports were leading the Tigers, 7-4 going into the sixth inning when the Tigers exploded for six runs to go ahead 10-7. However, the Sports split 1-0 of the Sports bounced back in their half of the sixth to score 3 runs and send the game into a 10-10 tie. This tie game will be played off at a later date, starting with the 7th inning.

PhiBase Team Defeats Local American All-Stars

On Saturday, July 23, 1960, the American All-Stars of Virginia Beach invaded the U.S. Naval Amphibious Base (National) stronghold only to have the PhiBase boys drop the ramp on them to the score of 8-5. Bill Renn, Manager, and Dr. Fitzhugh Mayo fielded a well-coached team but the Navy boys matched them home-run for home-run and double play for double play.

In the first inning, Arch McDowell got on base on a fielder's choice with Chip McQuilkin being forced at second base. John Potts banged out a double to send McDowell home. Mike Neville put one over the fence to make the score their inning to score 2 runs by 30. The Nationals came on in Holt and Sandifer. In the second inning, the Americans scored one run on a forced walk going down with 3 left aboard. The Nationals came thru to tally 3 times on home-runs by Cannon and Woodall with Sandifer aboard. Boosting Your Insurance

Here is a sound Rule-of-Thumb that every property owner can follow: If your fire insurance has been in effect for a number of years without review or revision, it's an odds on bet that you are seriously under-insured.

Since 1945, the statistics show, the cost of home building has just about doubled so if your home was insured in 1945 and you have not increased the amount of insurance that you carried as of that date, you can imagine what could happen to your pocketbook if fire strikes.

What is true of your home itself is true of practically everything inside it. For instance, the cost of household furniture, clothing, appliances—almost every item found in the home—has more than doubled since 1940. Then too you have added new furniture, new appliances, T.V. sets, sewing machines, and many other items and you probably have neglected to increase the insurance on your household and personal effects. These "little things" add up to a surprisingly big total when an accurate inventory is made.

The remedy is for you to review your present coverage, the amount of insurance you carry on your dwelling and the amount of insurance you carry on your household and personal effects. Don't be caught half-insured in the event that disaster strikes you.

We would be pleased for you to consult us to see if the amount of insurance you are now carrying is in line with present day values.

Joe Weatherly First To Sign for Labor Day Southern 500

Joe Weatherly, the green-flag waving race driver who pulled his way to victory in the twice-started Rebel 300 at Darlington Raceway this spring, today became the first stock car driver to sign for the Labor Day Southern 500.

Weatherly, whose record of finishing second in major stock car races is unparalleled in the sport, said, "This one's going to be mine. I'm going to put a 300 and a 500 back-to-back in 1958 and what he can do I can do too."

Reminded of the late successes of Pontiac in big races while he will be driving a Ford in the 800,000 classic, the Norfolk, Va., veteran added, "These turnpike race tracks are ideal for those big wooden Indians but at Darlington it takes a lot more than a size twelve shoe to win." Weatherly explained, "With one high speed groove you've got to outdrive the other fellow and that means cutting in and out of the groove. When you do that you are punishing a car and as yet none of those big goats have ever lasted."

Oldsmobiles and Hudsons, of the big cars, have won the Southern 500 but not since speeds climbed above the 100 mile-per-hour bracket. Chevrolet has won four times and Ford once since Herb Thomas won in a Hudson during 1954.

The fifty fastest late model stock cars will start in the eleventh Labor Day Southern 500 at Darlington Raceway. Four days of time trials, commencing August 31, will determine the field.

Clinic Time for Crippled Children

Midsummer brings clinic time again at Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond. Four times each year, the hospital holds clinics for orthopedic and plastic patients previously treated and for new referral patients. The children come from throughout the state to have their progress checked through X-rays and laboratory tests. If necessary, and further treatment is prescribed and operations scheduled if advisable. Braces and shoes are checked and changed where necessary, and even educational progress is considered and job training arranged in many cases.

This summer the clinic for orthopedic cases will be held on July 31, and that for plastic on August 7. Many of the boys and girls attending the plastic clinic are being treated for harelip and cleft palate. The plastic clinic is staffed by specialists in all the problems associated with these conditions including an audiologist and a speech therapist.

Crippled Children's Hospital is a private, non-profit corporation which for over thirty years has been helping handicapped children of Virginia who otherwise could not have the care they needed. The clinics are free as all other services of the hospital. Physicians donate their services. For admission, patients are cleared through their local doctors and the Crippled Children's Bureau of the State Health Department. The hospital is not connected with the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which is part of a national organization.

Two hundred fifty-five patients have been notified of the summer clinics. They come from sixty-nine counties and fourteen cities of Virginia.

(No children from Princess Anne County are scheduled this time.)

Catalogue for State Fair Exhibitors Being Distributed

The 1960 Premium Catalogue of the State Fair of Virginia is off the press and is now being distributed to exhibitors and potential exhibitors in Virginia and twenty-two other states in the East.

The 196-page, pocket size booklet gives a breakdown of the hundreds of classifications that make up the $42,007.15 in premiums that will be offered in 11 major departments which include beef, dairy and dual purpose cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, rabbits, agriculture, apples, judging contests and women's division.

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 350 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty... I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

"I'm getting close to 30 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

Peach Cobbler

While fresh peaches are in season, delight in the spicy goodness of blood-rimmed Peach Cobbler.

Fresh fruit and berry desserts win summertime blue ribbons for their peak flavor. Along with shortcakes and pies, be sure to treat your family to fruit cobbler like this luscious Peach Cobbler.

Baked in individual casseroles or an 8-inch square pan, this hurry-up dessert is most appealing. Sprinkle tangy lemon juice and cinnamon sugar over the sliced peaches in the bottom of the baking dish. A rich drop biscuit dough made with sugar and egg goes on top of the peaches.

Turning out glamorous fruit desserts is easy when you use enriched self-rising flour. Because the flour miller blends in baking powder and salt, you can mix batter and dough for baked foods in a twinkling.

Fruit desserts made with enriched self-rising flour have important food value. Fresh fruits supply vitamins and minerals, and enriched self-rising flour is a good source of three essential B-vitamins, calcium and food iron.

PEACH COBBLER

FILLING:
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 cups sliced fresh peaches

Combine 1/2 cup sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle lemon juice and sugar mixture over peaches. Fill well-greased individual casseroles two-thirds full with peach slices.

TOPPING:
1 cup sifted enriched self-rising flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten
3 tablespoons milk

Sift flour and 1/2 cup sugar into mixing bowl. Stir in lemon rind. Cut or rub butter or margarine into flour until mixture is crumbly. Combine egg and milk. Add to dry ingredients and stir until flour is measured. Drop by spoonful over peach slices. Sprinkle remaining sugar over the top. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 min. Makes 6 to 8 individual casseroles.

"Luscious" describes peaches in one word. Taken from the tree when its color grows rosy, it's sun-warmed aroma is tantalizing.

During the happy months when fresh peaches are available, we manage to put away about two billion pounds of fruit. Georgia, in which everything is peaches, starts their beauty parade during the later part of May. The harvest moves North with the heart of the sun until early August when orchards in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Colorado and New York are red-gold with ripening peaches.

There are more than two thousand varieties of peaches (let's not count them). There are about forty of commercial importance and hundreds of ways to serve them. Those who like to find the ripest peach in the basket, then eat it out of hand, will be glad to know that all major peach-producing areas now use a peach de-fuzzing machine. This crushes the fruit vigorously, then vacuums away the protective down.

Weight watchers will be glad to know that peaches are low in calories—a medium peach yielding only 40. While peaches provide a variety of nutrients, they're famous as a rich source of Vitamin A. Here are some recipes from the test kitchens of the United Fresh Fruit & Vegetable Assn., based on family favorites collected in the peach country. I am delighted to share them with you.

FRESH PEACH PUDDING

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder

4 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
6 cups (3 pounds) thinly sliced fresh peaches

Sift flour with 1/2 cup of the sugar, salt and baking powder. Cut in 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine. Stir in milk. Spread batter in a buttered 8x8x2-inch pan. Cover with thinly sliced peaches. Sprinkle with the remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Cover with foil and bake in a pre-heated moderate oven (375°F.) 20 minutes. Remove cover and bake 40 minutes or until done. Cut into squares and top with whipped cream, if desired. YIELD: 6 servings.

Future Officers Train at Story

Three hundred ROTC cadets were at Fort Story this week for three days of training in the Transportation Corps' amphibious equipment and operations. The cadets are in their six-week summer training period at Fort Story, Va.

Arriving on Monday, the cadets and their cadre were greeted by Col. William P. Pope, Fort Story Commander, and Maj. Warren J. Higgins, Commanding Officer of the 14th Terminal Battalion and Officer-in-Charge of their training.

Instruction was given by lectures, demonstrations, and also with the cadets performing the various operations themselves. The subjects included nomenclature, capabilities, and operations of a DUKW; DUKW driver maintenance; principles of combat loading; beach control procedures; landing craft retrieval; DUKW, truck transfer; nomenclature capabilities, and operations of the BARC; landing craft operations; sand and surf operations of the DUKW (day and night); and ship to ship to shore operations.

Units participating in the training program were the officers, and men of the 461st Transportation Company and 854th Transportation Company of the 14th Terminal Battalion, and the 34th, 347th, and 570th Transportation Companies of the 10th Terminal Battalion. The 100th Boat Battalion of Fort Story contributed landing craft and crews for the training.

The cadets came from the University of Pennsylvania, John Carroll University, Purdue University, University of Texas, Tulane University and the University of Wisconsin.

Maine was once the property of Massachusetts. According to World Book Encyclopedia, Massachusetts bought the other state for about $6,000 in 1677 from the heirs of Ferdinand Gorges, who had received the lands as a gift.

BAYSIDE NEWS BRIEFS

By RITA H. VIGLIANI

THE BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB MEET

The Bayside Lions Club held their regular meeting at Shore Drive Inn, Wednesday night, July 20, at 7 p.m. with the president, John E. Abelson, Jr., presiding. Program chairman, Charles E. McCoy, presented the guest speaker, Sgt. J. F. McGowan, commanding officer of the Norfolk Police Dept. K-Nine Corps. Sgt. McGowan told the members and their guests about the formation of the K-Nine Corps in Norfolk and how the program is being enlarged. According to McGowan, when Mayor Duckworth visited Europe a few years ago he was very much impressed by the operation of these units and when he returned he persuaded the city authorities to inaugurate the program in Norfolk, using the Baltimore unit as a pattern. The Norfolk Corps was started in November 1959 with five dogs which were donated by local citizens. These dogs and the five officers who were to handle them spent three months in training at Langley Air Force Base. Shortly thereafter the Norfolk Police Dept. established their own training course and in February, 1960, graduated five men and dogs.

Sgt. McGowan cited a number of instances when the men and their dogs have apprehended criminals after other methods had failed. Prior to the establishment of the K-Nine Corps the Police Dept. had a great deal of trouble with the crowds which attended the "Rock and Roll Shows" at the city arena. Since the dogs have been used to control the crowds there have been no break-ins or any other vandalism connected with these events. There has been a sharp drop in arrests in the areas where these dogs are used—chiefly the downtown slum areas.

Patrolman R. W. Ange and his dog "Bruno" assisted Sgt. McGowan in putting on a demonstration showing the way the dogs are handled in dealing with trouble-makers. Each dog is trained to take orders only from the officer who is assigned as the dog's handler. These dogs are kept in the officers' homes when they are off duty and are treated as pets. The dogs which are used by the Norfolk K-Nine Corps are German Shepherds. This breed was chosen because of size, temperament and loyalty. After watching one of these dogs in action it is easy to understand how they can be used to discourage thieves and vandals.

Three of the Bayside Lions Club members, Ernest Posey, Charles Baldwin and Lon Day, recently attended the Lions International Convention in Chicago. Ernest Posey reported that he and the other members were very much impressed by the fine program which was staged by the International organization. Delegates attended from 106 countries and geographical locations.

HELPING HAND CIRCLE GIVES MEMBERS A NURSING PARTY

The Helping Hand Circle of the Bayside Christian Church honored Miss Elizabeth McGregor of Baylake Pines, with a surprise birthday party on July 18. Miss McGregor, a senior member of Bayside

Christian Church, was 84 years "young." Twelve members of the circle arrived with an attractively decorated basket containing gifts for the occasion. Mrs. Lillian Bible is the Circle Chairman.

BAYLAKE METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

According to the pastor, Rev. James W. Reynolds, Jr., the following new members joined the church membership: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fleming, Mrs. James Reade, Linda Susan Hewitt, Nancy Ellen Puckett, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Puckett of Thoroughgood, was baptized.

According to the committee in charge of arrangements, the annual Church Picnic will be held Saturday, August 13. Mr. Reynolds reports that work is progressing on the new unit of the church. The walls are above the first story windows. The unit will be composed of eight additional classrooms and it is hoped that the work will be completed by November.

Practice Opens In Preparation for Darlington 500

Rex White, Spartanburg, S.C., Chevrolet driver who is currently setting the pace in the national stock car point standings and Junior Johnson, Ronda, N.C., winner of the Daytona 500 last February, opened practice this week for Labor Day's Southern 500-mile racing classic at Darlington Raceway.

White and Johnson ran at average speeds between 121-123 mph, the pace they and tire engineer predict the eleventh Southern 500 will be run.

The transplanted Marylander, White, had a top speed run at 126 mph and pronounced the Darlington surface the smoothest in his experience.

Johnson had bad luck, in the runs, twice blowing motors. Tradition at Darlington says that the Southern 500 winner always comes from the first driver to start practice before the Labor Day event. This has held true, with one exception, since Herb Thomas won his third 500 in 1955.

Thomas, then running for Smokey Yunick of Daytona Beach, ran tire tests on a Chevrolet weeks prior to the sixth Southern 500 and won the race without a tire change.

Paul Goldsmith and Curtis Turner opened practice the next year with Ford and Turner became the winner as Ford won its only Southern 500. Speedy Thompson and Buck Baker were the earliest practitioners in 1957 with Thompson scoring a surprising win. Fireball Roberts practiced first alone in 1958 and romped home a winner. Only last year, when Yankee Jim Reed won the tenth anniversary Southern 500, has the rule failed to hold true.

White needs a top finishing position in the $50,000 Southern 500 to maintain his point lead over Bobby Johns and defending champion Lee Petty. White has a sever for his best finish in the holiday enth place in the '58 Southern 500 starts in the Rebel 300 at Darlington, a third and fifth in two.

Additional practice sessions have been scheduled for next week by other drivers.

For a dramatic effect, portrait photographs can be printed on chalk red-blue or gold-toned paper. For example, a portrait photograph of a girl in evening dress has a misty-by-moonlight look when printed on blue-toned paper.

had their highest milk production in May.

"In studying the monthly production of cows it is easy to find individuals that produce 80 to 40 per cent more milk in May and June than they did when they freshened in January or February. This is proof that the winter feeding is totally inadequate, the specialists say.

Cows calving in July and August are too far along in lactation to benefit from improved pasture conditions the following spring. During October and November as feed conditions deteriorate, these late summer fresheners drop off rapidly in production, proof again that feed makes the difference.

DHRA or Owner-Sampler records clearly reflect the feeding program in each herd. A careful study of these records to pinpoint areas which need more effort will pay big dividends.

VACATION—
WITH A DIFFERENCE AVAILABLE AT LEADERSHIP CAMP

A vacation—with a difference—is upcoming for around 175 young men and women at Virginia's annual state leadership camp, August 25-28, at 4-H Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach.

Officials of the VPI Agricultural Extension Service, who conduct the camp, say young men and women leaders of around 18 to 30 years of age are eligible to attend. Those interested should contact their county agricultural or home demonstration agents. Reservations will be accepted on a "first come, first served" basis.

The camp combines fun with leadership training for a nominal cost. The entire cost of the three-day sojourn at Virginia Beach will be only $13.50 per person. General assemblies with speakers and discussion groups on topics of interest to young people will highlight the training. A new discussion group this year will deal with citizenship responsibilities and will be led by Earl Shuflet, executive secretary, Virginia Association of Electric Cooperatives, Richmond. Other instructors will include Douglas Moore, state coordinator, Civil Defense, Richmond; Joe McAuliffe, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.; and several

During World War II, Col. Oliver was a battalion commander in England and France, and then Assistant Port Commander at the Le Havre Port of Embarkation, France.

Soybean Support Rate for State Set at $1.80 Per Bu.

The 1960 crop support rate for green and yellow soybeans in Virginia is $1.80 per bushel, the United States Department of Agriculture has announced.

This rate is on the basis of No. 2 beans containing 13.8 to 14.0 percent moisture. Certain premiums and discounts apply to the basic rate of $1.80 per bushel.

As in the past, soybeans will be supported through loans on beans the farmer stores on his farm or in commercial warehouse storage. Loans are available at the county ASC Office. They may be negotiated from the time of soybean harvest through January 31, 1961, and will mature May 31, 1961.

Governor Almond To Speak Before Va. Electric Co-op

Governor J. Lindsay Almond Jr. will report on progress in Virginia's industrial development program in an address Wednesday, August 3, before the annual meeting of the Virginia Association of Electric Cooperatives.

The governor will be the principal speaker at the meeting of electric coop members at Hotel Roanoke, Roanoke. The meeting will begin August 2.

The governor is expected to discuss how rural electric cooperatives, which serve about 100,000 families in rural Virginia, can best fit into the commonwealth's drive to attract new industry.

Theme of the big annual meeting, which is expected to attract about 300 rural electric cooperative leaders in Virginia, will be "The Rural Transition," said Fred Gordon, president of Northern Piedmont Electric Cooperative, Culpener, and chairman of the program committee for the association meeting.

"Rural Virginia, like all other country areas of the nation," Gordon said, "is changing rapidly. Farmers are dwindling in number as new techniques in farming make larger units more practical and as improved seeds and animals make fewer acres of crops and fewer head of livestock provide more food and fiber."

The result is that thousands of people in rural Virginia must find new means of making their livelihoods. How they may be able to do this will be the most important question to be discussed at the meeting of the electric cooperative association.

The other major speaker will be James G. Maddox, nationally known professor of agricultural economics at North Carolina State College, Raleigh. He will speak on Tuesday, August 2.

After the governor's speech, a panel of electric coop representatives will discuss what co-ops can do to meet the challenges presented by Governor Almond. The panel will be moderated by Dr. Paul Sanders, editor of the Southern Planter.

SWEET POTATO PRODUCERS TO MEET SECOND TIME

Princess Anne Sweet Potato Producers failed to organize the proposed marketing association at their first meeting. This was due mainly to lack of attendance by the growers.

On Monday night, August 1, at 8:00 p.m., a second attempt will be made to organize. All sweet potato producers are invited to come to the Board of Supervisors room at Princess Anne to discuss this very important organization.

The Committee on planning the organization wishes to inform you that any organization must be your organization, and that your interest must be evidenced by your attendance. There can be no organization unless growers themselves organize.

Producers serving on the committee have worked long and hard to draft a tentative plan of operation to present growers. If you are in the sweet potato business you owe it to yourself to come hear and discuss this plan of operation.

After hearing this plan of operation, a vote will be taken of the producers to decide upon organizing. Remember it takes producers present to vote the organization in or out.

SMALL COWPOKES ENCOURAGE BOOM IN PONY BUSINESS

Little cowpokes and cowgirls come in assorted sizes and shapes. And there is just as varied an assortment of ponies for them to ride the trail on.

Pony sales in Virginia rely on the upswing. There is an increasing demand for ponies as children's pets, 4-H projects, and show animals.

Ponies are classified by type. Shetlands are the smallest and usually are used as children's mounts. Welsh ponies are the next largest, followed in size by the show or exhibition type. The Hackney is the ultimate in action and harness-type pony.

At weaning time, a pony will bring from $250 to $500. This depends on the type, size and action expected when grown. Unusual color markings often raise the price.

The VPI Animal Husbandry Department has recently reprinted Circular 742, "Pony Care." It gives information on breaking and training, feeding, care and management, and the diseases of ponies.

A copy of this circular may be had from my office. Write for your free copy today.

DROUGHT SUGGESTIONS

Some areas of the County are suffering from drought and others are nearing drought conditions. If your area is one of these, you will undoubtedly be wanting recommendations as to crops and practices which can be used now to produce additional feed for use this winter.

Leaflet No. 9 "Increasing your Feed Supply" was prepared to have suggestions ready for such an eventuality.

Write for these excellent suggestions.

HERE'S HOW TO SEED THAT PASTURE

1. LIME: Take a soil sample. Soil boxes and record sheets can be obtained from my office. Bring it to me for analysis. Apply the amount of lime needed, based on soil test, at least 30 days before seeding and plow or disk it into the soil.

2. FERTILIZER: Apply amount and analysis of fertilizer needed, as indicated by soil test. On heavy soils and soils of high fertility this will usually be 800 to 1000 lbs. of 2-12-12. On light soils, sandy soils and soils of low fertility, 1000 lbs. or more of 5-10-10 will usually be needed. On extremely poor soils, additional phosphate or potash may be needed. If so, apply it and plow down before seeding.

3. ENCOURAGE DEEP ROOT GROWTH: This may be done by plowing down 1 or more of the lime and fertilizer. This is very important on soils of low fertility or in need of a heavy lime application. The portion of fertilizer and lime got plowed down should be applied and harrowed in just before seeding. Harrow and roll until seedbed is firm.

4. WHAT TO SEED: Seed 1 to 2 lbs. of certified ladino clover and 12 to 14 lbs. of Virginia-grown or domestic orchard grass. Where orchard grass is not adapted, use 12 to 14 lbs. of certified Dy. 21 or alta fescue in place of orchard grass. For higher yields and more flexible use, 5 lbs. of certified Keniahd, Chesapeake, or Virginia adapted red clover or 5 to 8 lbs. of certified Atlantic, certified Williamsburg, certified Buffalo, certified Narragansett, Kansas Common, or Oklahoma Approved alfalfa may be added to the above mixture. Always inoculate legume seed immediately before seeding.

5. WHEN TO SEED: After the first good rain in September up to October 15.

6. AVOID DEEP COVERING OF SEED: Do not cover seed more than 1 inch in heavy soils and 1 inch on lighter soils. Use corrugated roller, spike tooth or seeding harrow to cover seed immediately after seeding.

AVOID SUMMER SLUMP IN MILK PRODUCTION

Milk production may skid in the summer—but not necessarily, as the direct result of hot weather. High temperatures alone do not necessarily result in lower milk production if the animals eat plenty of feed. This points up the importance of top-quality pasture, and the supplement feeding of grain and forage during hot weather.

When the weather is hot, cows will spend less time grazing during the day, and more time grazing at night. In Virginia tests, cows did 54 per cent of their grazing between the night and morning milkings when the average daily temperature was 70°, as compared to 47 per cent when the temperature was 84°. And in Louisiana tests, cows grazed about 75 per cent of the time at night during hot weather. Good night pastures are important. If cows are kept in the barn or in a dry lot at night, be sure they have access to high quality forage.

Provide some type of shade for dairy herd on pasture. Cows will graze very little during the heat of the day, and if they spend this time in the shade they'll be more comfortable and produce more milk. It's a good idea also to give the cows some hay while they are in the shade.

Be sure dairy cattle have plenty of drinking water. The moisture they get when they eat lots of succulent pasture forage is reduced when pasture is mature and short. A cow producing 60 pounds of milk daily may need from 17 to around 40 gallons of water per day, depending on her size and on the temperature.

pending on her size and on the temperature.

UNDERFEEDING RULE, NOT EXCEPTION, IN MANY DAIRY HERDS

Underfeeding is the rule, not the exception in too many dairy herds. Experimental evidence of this unhappy state of affairs is forthcoming from Washington State University where scientists have been studying the records of 2,480 cows in the Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. (DHIA) Program.

Cows milking 3 to 8 months dropped off in milk production far too rapidly. This is proof of underfeeding, because at this time the cow is eager to milk. But she has no choice when she is underfed. She must either produce less milk or suffer excessive loss of weight.

The influence of feed on production is clearly shown by the May milk production records on the cows studied. Cows calving in February reached their peak dairy milk production in May when pastures finally furnished enough feed for them. Cows calving in May also
